REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME SLATED SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT FAIRGROUNDS

6407 fans roared their approval as Big Walnut dumped Bexley 65-41 and Ready trimmed Millin 78-60 Saturday night at the Fairgrounds Coliseum to win the Central District AA co-championship and move on to Regional games at the same site Wednesday night.

The Eagles were due to play Wellsville (20-1) last night with Ready (21-1) coming back tonight to take on Steubenville Catholic (17-4). The winners of these two games square off Saturday afternoon at 2:00 for the championship and a ticket to the State.

First BW District Title
The District co-championship is the first in the history of Big Walnut. The closest they've ever come before was in '65 when they lost to University in the finals. The Wednesday night win over Lakewood also set a new all-time win record for BW, breaking the 19-2 mark they had last season.

Saturday's 21st win also set a new record, breaking the 20-2 record set by the '66-'67 Buckeye Valley team. The trip to the Regional is only the second in modern times for an area cage squad. Northridge advanced to the '68 Regionals only to lose to Dixie 59-50 in their first game.

Conant Paces Five Starters
Five of coach Bob Shoemaker's players cracked double figures in rolling up the rather easy win. Scott Conant, who closed with 15, paced the early going as he hit for 13 in the first half, including 3 of 3 at the line.

New Trial from Hung Jury Scheduled to Begin Monday

Second trial for Delaware man charged with assault with intent to commit robbery begins Monday after his trial in October resulted in a hung jury. This week's trial, scheduled to begin Wednesday, was settled Tuesday evening and the suit was dismissed.

Trial for Roy Daniel Patterson, 28, Delaware, is set to begin Monday morning in which he faces the assault charge. He was allegedly involved in the assault of Carlisle

Wright, 50, of Marysville Rd. in Blue Limestone Park last July 3. Patterson's first trial resulted in the second hung jury in the past 19 years when it was held last October. He and an alleged cohort, Michael K. Browning, 22, also of Delaware, were indicted July 14 for the same charges.

Browning was sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory Feb. 23 for violation of probation after he had already entered a guilty plea to the offense last fall and had been placed on probation. He is serving a 1-5 year term for the offense.

Jury deliberated about two hours Oct. 6 before foreman John Robert Tillman, of Delaware, returned to the courtroom to announce that the members could not reach a decision. That trial had run for three days before the hung jury was announced and next week's retrial is also (Continued on Page 2)

Olentangy School Board Continues Operation with Only Four Members

Olentangy Board of Education continues to operate the school with only four members attending the meetings as Ron Cress, newly elected member has not attended any meeting since January and has reported no reason for non-attendance.

E. D. Beville, superintendent told when questioned about Mr. Cress' absence from the meetings, that if the absence of the elected board member continued, in time the board would have to replace him, but "we are getting along very well as I have four fine board members," he added.

The board in a meeting Friday evening granted a 1.5% increase in salary to certified and non-certified personnel which with the 5.2% increase made in December brings the increase up to the 7% allowed by the Federal Government.

Mr. Beville explained that the increase in salary made with the issuance of supplemental contracts in February could not hold according to federal standards. The board issued new contracts to all assistant coaches, cheer leader advisors at both high school and Middle School level, pre-school band director, class play advisors and yearbook advisor. The board now learns those contracts cannot hold as the federal government will not permit more than a 7% increase.

The board voted the new salary schedule to bring the school district more nearly in line with state standards. The schedule effective immediately raises all salaries of teachers with degrees from approximately $406 to $675. Teachers with bachelor degrees will start at a salary of $626.00. MUST REGISTER TO VOTE WITHIN NEXT TWO WEEKS

You only have a little over two weeks to register to vote for the May Primary this year as Apr. 3 is the date registration closes.

Registration is starting to pick up. Election Board Director Betty Porter told the News Tuesday "We've had many people come in from the eastern side of the county, but by all means not all those who should."

Persons who wish to vote in the May Primary must be registered. If you have recently turned 18, or just moved into this county, changed precinct name or address, you must register or you will not be permitted to cast your vote May 2. And, anyone who has not voted in the past two years must re-register before he can exercise his right to vote.

"College students who have come home for spring break should register and at the same time they can make arrangements with us to have applications sent them for absentee ballots," Mrs. Porter added. "If they notify us, we'll get those out in plenty of time so they can also be counted May 2."

Election Board office, in the courthouse basement, is open daily 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon. Register and vote, it's really the only voice you have.

County Drops Charges Against Delaware Man; Another Pleads Guilty

County dropped charges against a Delaware man Monday and another man changed his plea to guilty to a lesser offense in Common Pleas Court.

Prosecutor Henry Shaw dropped charges against Steve D. Corley, 21, Delaware, on grounds of insufficient evidence after Corley was indicted by the grand jury Jan. 4 on two counts of breaking and entering in the night season and unarmed robbery. State's key witness, 32-year-old Paul A. Minton, Overlook Trailer Court Delaware, was unable to identify Corley as his assailant in court, according to Corley's court appointed attorney, Joe Schilder.

Corley had allegedly broken into Minton's trailer Nov. 23 and began scuffling with the elderly man who was in bed. In the fight, Minton's wallet was supposedly stolen with $30 in it.

Kingston, Marengo Families Injured In SR 521 Crash

Nine persons injured in a two-car collision on SR 521 Friday evening have all been released from Jane M. Case Hospital this week after treatment for their injuries.

Seven of those were treated and released shortly after the accident but Ida Strong, 22, of 1011 Kilbourne Rd. and Velma Hornsby, 35, Marengo, were both admitted and released Monday.

GALENA MAYOR SWEARS IN POLICE DEPARTMENT

Mayor Willie York administered oaths to four policemen for the Village of Galena Tuesday night as that village began its own police department.

The police force is the result of the efforts of the Galena Council and the Citizen's Committee of the village and the four men sworn in are all residents of the village.

James Loudermilk and Verle Potts. Dave Potts was appointed chief by Mayor York and the men will begin work as soon as they are bonded for carrying guns.

Estel Miller, clerk of the village, told the News the village furnished the uniforms for the men and will stand the costs of their Law Enforcement Officer Training School, which will begin next week.

Mayor York said his men will operate through the Delaware County

Sheriff's communication system and he added that eventually the force plans to have a cruiser of some type.

The men will take their 262 hours of training in Westerville starting Monday in sessions conducted by Chief Abbott of Worthington. Galena in the past has been policed by a marshal, Walter Goodrich, and his deputy, Loudermilk, and the Delaware county sheriff's department.

Editorially Speaking . . .

ARE WE LOSING OUR CONTROL TO STATE?

Citizens of this country are gradually losing all control of local governmental bodies simply because of apathy and lack of sincere effort to run a good government.

The announcement coming from Governor Gilligan's office that a commission has been designated from the state to investigate municipalities, townships, etc. to see where inefficiency is, where money is wasted, and may we add—where state government may step in and dictate what should be done—was not a welcome bit of news.

Too much control in this country has already gone to government. It is not completely unexpected seeing how inefficiently some of our small government bodies are run. Too often public officials do only a half-hearted job in filling their posts. They too often do not seem vitally interested in serving the public for which they ran in election. This is not always true, but it is all too often the case.

Certainly, public officials on the local basis know best what residents of that area need. Certainly, at the local level money may be invested more frugally than by a large central government. This country was founded on democratic government, but it is no one's fault but our own, that we are gradually losing all power to state and federal government.

The farther our tax dollars go away from home, the less will be left to finance needs by the time any money gets back to us. It is certainly time the public is awakening to the fact they are sliding deeper and deeper into centralization of power. More and more of our tax dollars are going to pay for new departments in state and federal government, to pay more and higher salaries than ever before. When present tax monies become scarce, then more taxes will be levied against us to pay for these newly created bureaucratic departments. Do you just want to continue sleeping and let this happen?

Do you care whether or not we lose our democracy?

HOW YOUNG THIS STORY IS!

March 3, 1972

Editor

Sunbury, Ohio 43074

Dear Marian:

Thought you might get a chuckle out of this. It came out of "Farm Wife News" and they got it out of some paper out East and I changed it a little bit to fit the local situation. This couldn't have happened in Sunbury, could it?

A certain man was too cheap to subscribe to The Sunbury News even to pay 15c a copy once in awhile so he sent his little boy to borrow his neighbor's copy. In his haste, the boy ran over an $80 box of beer and in 10 minutes looked like a warty squig.

His father ran to his assistance and, failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that cutting a hole in his anatomy as well as running a pair of $10 trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and killed herself in green corn.

Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a 4 gallon churn of cream into a basket of chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste, she dropped a $175 set of new "store bought" teeth, which the family dog buried, thinking they were new type of bone.

The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor, running a $450 carpet. During the excitement, the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, a stray dog broke up 11 setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails of four fine shirts on the clothes line. "Aunt Minnie's old cat" had 17 kittens, and the man never did get to read The Sunbury News.

Sincerely,

Dan Shaw

James Van Fleet died at his home Friday morning after a long illness. He retired as a rural mail carrier from the Galena postoffice ten years ago.

Receipts from the Delaware county high school basketball tournament this year reached $4,560.84. Doors of the gym were closed at all sessions when the place was filled and this prevented many from attending.

Frank Duckworth was found dead this morning. He served as custodian at Sunbury School for a quarter of a century until two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Bagley celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home one-half mile west of Africa Sunday, Mar. 16.

The remains will be cremated and brought back to Ohio sometime later for a memorial service.

bus, changed his plea Monday to guilty of the lesser charge of simple larceny and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. He was indicted Nov. 4 on a count of grand larceny after he allegedly stole $10 from a drabbing while at his while they were at an apartment on N Union St. last September.

Alice Mitchell was hired as a substitute bus driver for the balance of the school year.

The board also approved the release of an additional 15% of the salary obligation due to employees to be reflected in the March pay check. This was made possible through the "catch-up" clause of the Federal Pay Board guidelines which permits a total increase of 7% of the previous year's salary.

"Due to other limitations in the Phase II program," Richard Rannels, superintendent explained, "the pay check received by individual employees still remains below the new minimum mandated by House Bill 475."

Two Radnor area men surprised would be thieves in the Radnor Lodge on Wednesday evening. Consequently, two men fled breaking and entering in the night scene charges.

Robert Thrush, 497 Main Rd., and Richard Vigor, 7987 Radnor Rd., allegedly walked in on what appeared to be a burglary at the Radnor Lodge on St. Charles and Wednesday evening about 8 p.m. and caught two men on the second floor.

The two men were being jumped through a second floor fire jump. William Cornelius, 2000 W. 20th St., of Racine, O., and George Everett, 2000 W. 20th St., of Racine, O., were detained by Thrush and Vigor.

They were taken to the Sheriff's office where they were held on Tuesday of the week the letter is to appear.

Bedtime is associated with maple syrup at the Gene Jenney home since sap started running. Little Heidi refuses to go to bed until her daddy boils down the day's accumulation of sap and brings her a taste of the syrup every night. * Maybe Robin Got In Syrup
Gene says he saw the largest robin he had ever seen the other day. Didn't know whether it was really that big or if it was so old its feathers were ruffled. Perhaps, Gene, he has been feeding on that maple syrup. It will add the pounds!

* First Time I've Been Farmer
Never had the honor of being called a farmer before, but I am really proud of that receiving honorary membership in the Big Walnut FFA. Have followed with keen interest the activities of these young men and women and have seen many times before, they are certainly the outstanding youth organization so far as I can tell.

* Hurray for July 4th
What a relief it was to hear Gary Worster of the FFA tell that the high school kids will again handle the Sunbury July Fourth celebration. This is a huge task and right after the annual event take two years. Gary Bauer, advisor, has told they wouldn't attempt it again. Told him both times to wait until he recovered from the weariness of the task and then make up his mind. Hadn't heard anything about the kids going ahead this summer until the announcement at the banquet. Thanks so much for coming forth with your management. You certainly know how and do a terrific job.

served their anniversary Mar. 9. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Press celebrated their 50th anniversary on Mar. 15. Mrs. D. Moore will be 89 Mar. 18. On Mar. 19 my own mother-in-law will be 87. I'm never sure about her birth date or age as she likes to keep people wondering. Lindsey Miller will be 76 the same day. Clarence Edwards of Galena will be 77 Mar. 20 and the same day C. W. McElwain of Croton will be 94. Mrs. Edna Lake will celebrate her additional year Mar. 22 and Arnold Stauch will be 71 Mar. 23. Morgan Chamberlain and Ed Skeens will have birthdays Mar. 24. Morgan will be 76 and Ed will be 74. Have a good day, all of you, and we hope to wish you well again next year.

* Much New Building
Houses seem to be popping up everywhere and spring is still on its way. The Gregg addition is really growing. Have you noticed the many new homes east of Chesapeake? Notice some new places going up on the golf course road. Also a new building at Woody Sawyer's at Berkshire. Mrs. Ruth Calkins is having an apartment building in nearing completion too. Seems every time you drive through the country, you see a house which was there the last time you made that drive.

* The Weirns' of the Green
Imagine all those of Irish blood will still like to wear the Green Friday as they traditionally celebrate St. Patrick's Day. I know it must hurt the hearts of those of Irish descent to read daily of the many killings in their native Ireland under the guise of Christianity.

North CommunityYWCA Introduces New Venture

North CommunityYWCA's newest venture, a series of business women's luncheons, is the brain child of staff member Ruth Sayre.

Sour Milk, Soda

Mrs. Otis Gammill has been after me for weeks to get her a recipe for cornbread made with buttermilk or sour milk and soda. I told her I had recipes at home, but could never seem to remember it from one time to the next.

At long last, Mrs. Gammill, here is your recipe. An printing it as others might be interested, too. While looking up the recipe for Mrs. Gammill, I ran across several others which were all fine using cornmeal and sour milk or buttermilk. Decided to give them all to you. Place them in your files and then when you want them you'll have them handy.

Iron Skillet Corn Bread

1 1/2 c. yellow cornmeal

1 salt

2 eggs

3/4 t. soda

1 1/3 c. buttermilk

2 T. melted shortening
Mix all and blend well. Put into a hot, greased iron skillet (bacon fat is good to grease the skillet) and bake in a hot oven 450 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. This may also be baked on top of the stove. Serve at once.

Sweet-Corn Cake

1/2 c. flour

1/2 c. cornmeal

1/2 c. sugar

2 t. baking powder

1/2 t. salt

1 c. buttermilk or sour milk

1 beaten egg

1 T. melted shortening
Mix dry ingredients. Add the rest in order and blend well. Bake in greased cake pan in a 425 degree oven about 20 minutes.

This recipe is sweeter than most and seems to appeal greatly to northerners though it certainly isn't a typical southern corn bread. Here is another recipe, equally good, with only a taste of sugar, but a great favorite, especially with maple syrup, which is now coming into season.

Vermont Johnny Cake

3/4 c. flour

3/4 c. yellow cornmeal

1 T. sugar

1/2 t. salt

1/2 t. soda

1 t. baking powder

1 beaten egg

1 c. sour cream or

1 c. sour milk and 2 T. shortening
Mix the dry ingredients, add the egg and cream and mix well. Bake in greased pie or cake pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 30 minutes.

Now for those of you who have corn stick irons here is a recipe you might like.

Corn Sticks

1 egg

1 c. sour milk

1/2 t. soda

1 c. cornmeal

1 c. flour

2 t. baking powder

1 salt

3 T. melted butter

Break the egg in a bowl. Add the milk, to which soda has been added.

Add the cornmeal and the sifted-together dry ingredients. Add the butter. Beat all together one minute. Pour into sizzling hot, corn stick irons which have been generously greased with the bacon fat. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, about 30 minutes. For variation, let us suggest that for variety, you might like to add 1/2 c. finely cut, soaked, but not cooked apricots. Or also good is 1/2 c. whole kernel corn added to the recipe. These may also be baked as muffins.

And I don't give you a lot of cornbread recipes without including this one. The result may not appeal to the modern day appetites but I will remember this as a regular dish during my childhood and it was so appealing and made me so hungry my mother always baked it in an iron skillet on top of the stove. Don't believe we ever had boiled cabbage unless we had this to go with it.

Corn Pone

3 c. cornmeal

2 c. buttermilk

1 1/2 t. soda

1 1/2 t. salt

1 t. baking powder

2 T. lard or bacon grease
Mix all in order and blend well.

With the hands, shape "pones" like flat round cookies. Bake on a greased baking sheet in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 25 minutes or as I said, on top of the range, slowly on greased griddle. Bake until edges are brown.

Now all you have to do is to have ham and cabbage one night with one of these breads. Another night serve Boston baked beans and Polish sausage with another hot bread. Liver and onions make a delicious meal with a corn bread. And for just plain good eatin', one needs nothing more than a good cornbread with plenty of butter and maple syrup. It will delight old and young alike.

Perhaps you have noticed many times I specify bacon grease rather than other shortening. I'm just old fashioned enough I believe bacon grease is needed to give good flavor to a corn bread.

—Lillian Smith

SPORTS WINDOW

By JACK BRENN

Basketball fever has reached out to include more than the thousands of fans in the immediate area who have been totting the greatness of their Big Walnut Eagles for more than a year. Old grads are showing up by the bushel-full, mighty proud of their alma mater, and others throughout the state finally realize that Sunbury Big Walnut does have a championship basketball team! Several fans even reported the Columbus radio station that broadcast the Bexley game, when they started, didn't seem to know where Sunbury is, or understand how they got into the finals. By the half they started to praise the Eagles and by game's end were completely sold on them, saying they would represent Central District well in the Regional. One remark made by a rabid Buckeye Valley fan sticks with me. He said, "Without Big Walnut and Ready in the District, it would have been a fairly even tournament!" Reports have also reached us on how other towns have decorated their communities, honoring their Regionalists. Sunbury residents and merchants put out many displays this week, although one has to rate as the best I've seen. Warner Breece, Florist, has a coffin in front of his greenhouse, completely bedecked with baskets of flowers and a huge spray from the Eagles. In back of this setup is a big sign sitting, "Wellsville Services 7:30 p.m. Wednesday." The display took quite a bit of work and is really impressive at night when lighted. Wendell Davidson and his wife went until early in the morning hours fixing up a large sign on the lawn of their realty office. Huge letters say "Go Eagles!" and below are listed the names of all the players. Wendell also has the figures on most teams participating in the Regionals. He tells me that Wednesday for Wellsville has allowed 51 points per game this year, while scoring at an 81.4 clip. By comparison, BW averages 79 while giving up 45.9 per game. Personally, I feel that the Eagles will take Wellsville, even though they are No. 2 in the State. Sunday's 2 p.m. contest with Ready (I predict) will be the toughest of the whole journey and we will need our best effort to get by them. Into the State. In checking over other areas of the state, I see there is only one other unbeaten AA team left besides Big Walnut, Lexington. No. 1 in the AP final poll and No. 4 in the UPI plays Rousford (20-1) in the Bowling Green regional Friday night. Triple A teams have three unbeaten remaining—No. 1 Cella 22-0, No. 4 Cincinnati Elder 22-0, and No. 9 Springfield Elder 22-0. Cella has Dola Hardin, Northern 22-0, Columbia 22-0 and Indiana Valley South 21-0.

Calm, collected Bob Fraker. Shoemaker took his team's win over Bexley in stride Saturday. And he had good reason. He figured his team to win by 21 points, saying so before the game! Final margin—24 points. Not quite as accurate as predicting the Elgin score exactly, but pretty good. Especially the margin. If he can just keep them coming by such wide margins, I'd appreciate it. Much easier on the fans, and sportswriters! Phillips 66 upset undefeated Big Walnut Golf Club in the finals of the Big Walnut Fast League Tournament Tuesday night. No report was received but I hear it was by a big margin. Quite a fight is brewing in the Buckeye Conference area which contains schools in Lorain, Elyria, Marion, Mansfield, Findlay, etc. The conference voted to charge radio and TV stations for covering their games, setting prices ranging from $15 to $80 for radio stations and $50 for CATV. The fees would be placed in a fund for operation of the league. The Lorain and Marion School Boards are the first to go on record protesting this action.

Summer baseball sign-up has been set for Saturday, April 1, by the Big Walnut Boys Baseball League and parents had better start saving their money! Fees have been jumped to $10 for 1st boy and $5 for second and third. Sickers which the kids can sell will be given to get back part of the money, that is, if there are enough grandma's and grandpa's around.

Two free throws were all the points Bexley could make in the early minutes of the third as BW bounced out to a 35-21 advantage. The going was fairly even from here until the end of the quarter which ended with BW on top 44-30.

Nine Straight Breaks It Open
Lawrence opened the last quarter with an 8-footer and Conant followed with a rebound layup. Condit drove for two and Saver hit another layup followed by a free throw by Moodespaugh. These points stretched out the advantage to 53-30 and the Eagles were able to coast in.

Big Walnut finished with a 39-19 advantage off the boards which OER

Walnut FFA Has 330 At Banquet

Big Walnut Future Farmers of America held its 21st annual Parent-Son banquet Thursday evening with 330 being served the dinner.

Greg Garee, president, was toastmaster for the evening and introduced several guests.

Gary Worster told what the aims and purposes of the chapter were stressing the development of leadership, cooperation, citizenship. He told that the chapter has decided to sponsor the annual July 4th celebration again in Sunbury as they have done in the past two years in conjunction with the Big Walnut FFA.

Following entertainment put on by the Greenhands, resembling greatly the type of initiation which they have to undergo, under the direction of Dan Williams, Claudia Cook, president of the Big Walnut FFA, greeted the crowd.

Terry Shively introduced Miss Diana Leaf, new FFA Queen who took over the position relinquished by retiring queen, Judy Brown. Also in attendance for the Queen's crowning was State FFA Queen Debbie Carey of Elgin Chapter. Steve Lord announced the individual Star Award winners. Star Public Speaking Awards went to Greg Garee, prepared; Gary Worster, extemporaneous; and Dan Williams, creed. Steve Lord received Star Scholarship, Star Leadership, Star Farm Electrification, Star Placement in Production. Due to his fine efforts he became not only the Star Senior but also received the Star Chapter Farmer award from Delaware County Bank presented by Clyde Bougher.

Other Star awards went to Steve Crooks, Crop Farming and Livestock Farming; Marvin Hall, Soil, Water & Air Conservation, Agriculture Mechanics, and Home Improvement; Brian Lawless also received Home Improvement. Dick Fisher received Star Forestry. Rick Garrahan Star Agri-Business, Steve Shively, Star Farm Safety, and Charlotte DeLozier, Star Specialty.

Following the presentation of the awards to the chapter members, the Big Walnut Chapter recognized several adults in the crowd who had helped the chapter in the past year.

Certificates of appreciation were also presented to Mrs. Lola Dell Scaries, Mrs. Lucille Peregrine, Warner Breece, Charles Beaver of Beaver Packing Co., Ken Creasy and Mrs. Virginia Leach were also recognized. Mr. Creasy was unable to attend.

Honorary Chapter Farmer degrees were presented to Gary Bamber, former vocational agriculture instructor at Big Walnut, and Mrs. Marian Whitney of The Sunbury News.

At the close of the program the old officers installed the new officers of the Chapter who promptly took over the duties by closing the Chapter. Before relinquishing his gavel, Greg Garee told "Brotherhood is the greatest asset man can develop. There will always be greater men than you are, also lesser men, but it depends upon you how you develop brotherhood among you and your fellowmen," he told the newly elected officers.

The main talk of the evening was presented by Dennis Sargent, National FFA Secretary, who stated, "I can certainly understand why Big Walnut is the No. 1 Chapter in Ohio and it is certainly a No. 1 banquet. He spoke of the strong lines of communication between students, parents, teachers and community which the Future Farmers fosters. "I'm sure the relationship between these various segments makes for the strongest binding of the generation gap across the nation."

He told that one of the newest innovations of the FFA National is the founding of the National FFA Alumni Chapter which is being formed for the first time this year. Dan Brenner, State FFA Sentinel, presented the Honorary Chapter Farmer degrees and aided throughout the evening with the program. He remarked, "I am very appreciative to the community and Big Walnut Chapter for what they have done for me."

United Appeals Seeks To Make Up Deficit

Delaware County's United Appeal for financing of thirteen agencies during the year 1972 fell short of its goal by $7,760 and a plea is being made to residents of the county to help raise this amount.

The United Appeal asked for $130,000 this year which was $2,000 less than last year. The United Appeals office lists the following shortages for the various areas: Red Cross, $3200; Liberty Community Center, $760; Dental Fund, $400; Mental Health Association, $1110; Council for Retarded, $250; Speech and Hearing Center, $840; Salvation Army, $490; and Council of Social Agencies, $710.

The Senior Citizens plan a series of luncheons to make up their deficit. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will also meet their balance of need through other means. The Children's Home has accepted its budget reduction

Croton Man Wins Ton of Feed In 'Big Idea Bonanza' Contest

David E. Grube of Rt. 1, Croton, has been selected as one of the 100 winners in the "Big Idea Bonanza" hog management contest sponsored by American Cyanamid Company. As a winner in this national contest, Mr. Grube will receive one ton of free pig starter feed containing Aureo S-P 250 from his local feed dealer, Griffith Farm Service, Inc., Centerville, with Cyanamid's compliments.

Purpose of the "Big Idea Bonanza" competition, according to Ernest F. Bond of Galena, Cyanamid animal feed representative, was to stimulate the sharing of practical ideas for more efficient and profitable pork production. A collection of 100 winning ideas will be published in booklet form by Cyanamid. The booklet is expected to be available to interested producers in March through local feed suppliers.

Winning ideas were selected by a judging committee of nationally recognized authorities on swine breeding, nutrition, health, housing, and management. Mr. Grube was recognized by the judges as a winner for the following idea: "For a night light, install a dimmer switch in your barn. This not only saves on electricity and prolongs bulb life, but it also enables the sows to get around better thus reducing the danger of laying on pigs. This 24-hour light may also encourage baby pigs to eat more creep feed."

Happenings in Olive Green

By Mrs. Opal Easthom

Church Notes

Fifty-eight in attendance at the Olive Green Church of Christ in Christian Union for Sunday school. Rev. Fry had the most people on his side for the contest and Mrs. Marilyn Sager, Sunday school supt., had to wear the pink ribbon all day saying "I am a loser." Better luck next time, Marilyn. Next week's contest for the largest attendance will be between Vernon Rhoads, first elder of the church, and Rev. Fry. From what I hear this will no doubt be a hot contest to say the least. Will look forward to seeing a lot of new faces on Sunday.

Craft Club Meets

Tri County Home Craft Club held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Opal Easthom on Thursday, Mar. 10, with fifteen members, two babies, two children and one guest, Mrs. Paul Elfrink, present. Cookies and coffee were served by the hostess at the noon meeting. After the dessert a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Thomas Harris, in charge. The door prize was won by Mrs. Bessie Edwards. The do-it-yourself kits that were ordered last meeting were distributed. These were mainly flower kits and some personalized picture kits. There was some discussion of plans for the May trip for the club's annual outing. Next meeting in April will be at the home of Mrs. Thomas Harris with a potluck dinner.

Porter Grange Meets

Porter Grange met Wednesday evening, Mar. 9, with a rather sparse crowd present. A communication was read asking for a donation for the Youth Leadership Fund Foundation from the National Grange Hq., Washington, D. C. Homer Lott, legislative agent, discussed some aspects of the strip mining controversy as affecting our area of environment and ecology. A. C. Metzger made some suggestions for improving the Grange building and premises. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served.

Miscellaneous News

The community extends its sympathy to the families of Mary Carnes, a former resident of this community.

Recently I sent a wild card into radio station WTVN hoping they would call me on one of those sweepstakes calls. My friend up at Ridgeway, Mrs. Elzora Brubaker, had sent one in too and sure enough they called her when she knew the correct answer. Congrats, Elzora. Glad you were there pitching Mrs. Brubaker's very active Mrs. Grange here, and other activities before moving to Ridgeway where she operates a grocery store.

I goofed last week when I included Lola Owen among the list of people that won prizes from Porter township. She really is from Kingston. She belongs to Porter Grange and is prominent in many other activities here that I just included her with our township. Sorry about that.

heard the frogs around their place already this month.

Too bad for children when they acquire an unpleasant nickname and it clings to them all their life long. As a child, I had a most odious one all because one day as I approached my father he said, "Oh, there is my little hunk." No doubt he used that term due to the fact of my being a chubby little girl. My brothers thought that was so funny they continued calling me that and soon all the neighborhood kids took it up. I was thirteen when we moved from that locality otherwise I would probably have had to have lived with that moniker all my life, and if I were to return there today, some childhood friend would probably pop up and say there's a "Hunky" Rogers back in town.

The Magic Ray

In 1905 the accidental discovery of X-RAY was heralded as a special boom to medicine. Right from the start great medical benefits were anticipated. Here was a mysterious ray which could pass through solid matter and be recorded on film, enabling doctors to spot disease at its earliest stage.

The many new ways that this startling discovery is now helping mankind could hardly be foreseen then. X-Rays are now used not only in detecting disease, but in its treatment as well.

There's hardly one branch of medicine that does not have X-Rays for treatment or diagnosis. U. S. doctors use over 50 million X-Rays per year... dentists twice as many.

And most important, medical X-Rays are done with the highest safety standards. For modern treatment of your Medical Supplies and Prescription needs, put your trust in DEL R. PHARMACY, Cor. Sandusky & William Sts. Delaware. PHONE: 363-5861 for Free Rx Delivery.

Friday Afternoon Is Fun Time

With the weekend at hand, Friday afternoon from 1:30-3 p.m. could be pretty dull - with not much accomplished for school children. Mrs. Jill Schultz, second grade teacher at Galena Elementary School may have a solution.

Youngsters in the class have been involved in some specialized craft projects the last few weeks with community people sharing their special "know-how" with pupils. First project was making puppets on a balloon base covered with paper mache. The puppets, designed by students and ranging from a monster to an astronaut, were then painted, shellacked, and dressed under the direction of Mrs. James Chapin. With her help children are now working on some Easter ornaments made of crushed glass and fixed in a resin base.

In an effort to find something to "spark it up" on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Schultz plans projects for coming weeks in needlecraft, woodworking, tissue paper folding, and decoupage.

Plan Bake Sales, Paper Drive for Camp

Sixth graders from Big Walnut Middle School will have a three-location bake sale Saturday, Mar. 25. Funds raised from the triple sale will be used to send youngsters to the Mohican School in the Out of Doors.

Sales will be sponsored at the Sunbury IGA, the building next to the Sunbury postoffice, and at the Delaware County Bank in Galena. Baked goods will be offered for sale from 8 a.m. until "everything is sold," according to students. Sixth graders also plan a newspaper drive with papers to be gathered at the middle school Mar. 24, 3 p.m. until 8 a.m. Monday Mar. 27. A large van will be parked behind the school throughout that weekend for collection of papers.

Students ask that papers be tied in bundles and add that they will pick up newspapers from persons unable to deliver them to the school. Pickups can be arranged by calling the middle school 965-3902 during the week of Mar. 20 between 2 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Sunbury PTO to Have Guest Speaker Tonight

L-K BLUE RIBBON STRIP STEAK

The old timers will remember this steak as the "Butcher's Steak". In past years when they butchered on the arm — or when small proprietor butcher shops were still in vogue, the one piece of meat that was always savored for its tenderness, flavor, and delicacy is the very same steak which we call our Blue Ribbon Strip. This is the steak that graced the butcher's or the farmer's table following the butchering. It very rarely reached the market, therefore it became known as the butchers' steak and did not become as well known to the general public. This steak is found in the front quarter of the beef inside the rib cage and therefore very easy to cut out of the beef without affecting any other part of the carcass. It grows lengthwise and only about one inch thick, therefore it is necessary to cut it with the grain. This is the main difference between the more familiar steak cuts and our Blue Ribbon Strip; but it comes closest to the Tenderloin in its overall tenderness and flavor. We hope you like it.

Learning Disabilities

By Marion Whitney

Mrs. Stimmel has detailed specific learning experiences, using fictitious names which teachers and tutors in this field often meet.

"For Henry who has a problem in concentration, I have him look for hidden pictures or hidden numbers in a picture. Highlights Magazine is an excellent example of these. To help Cindy speed up her reaction, I give her small tasks to do in a limited time. I may draw a box on a piece of paper and have her see how many lines she can draw in the box in a one-minute time limit.

"Jane has problems in copying from a book. She either leaves out words or reverses them. I have her write on a piece of paper the sequence of numbers or letters. I start out with groups of 3, then 4, and 5 numbers sequence.

"Sam has a lazy tongue. He is very capable of producing all his sounds but just doesn't bother. Thus, it is hard for him to spell or reproduce words as he doesn't say what is written. I have him practice using his tongue in making sounds, repeating words until it becomes automatic. We make this into a game while we are reading simple stories. "Bill has a problem with word attack. I work with a series of books like Open Court. I use many blends like pr, tr, cr and explain to the child that, regardless of where the blend is found in the word, it is pronounced the same. I have found blending very effective in helping children like Bill.

"Sharon does very poorly in spelling. I put the words in large cursive writing on the chalkboard. Sharon must trace over my writing saying the letter as she traces over it. She must cross her i's and dot her i's. Then she repeats the word and starts over again. This is not fun but has proven successful. "Many of the children have trouble following simple directions. On a sheet of paper, they do what I instruct them to do. Here are some examples:

1. Put your name in the lower left hand corner.
2. Draw a line going up.
3. Draw a plane coming down.
4. Put a triangle in the upper right hand corner.

In this way, Mrs. Stimmel makes clear for our readers what various needs there are and how she, as a tutor, handles them.

Mrs. Stimmel commented, "I spend a lot of time in working on improving self-image. Praise is essential, which the children must recognize as being sincere and earned. Getting that first A or B in spelling is 'beautiful'. Being able to skip as well as Suzy is pretty great, too!"

She also stated that most of the children like to come because "we have fun". However, she also said, "I do have to be firm and sometimes I'm sure they think I am mean when I keep after them. Children with learning disabilities, just like the rest of the children in the world, are in need of constant loving discipline. This means that I have to always follow through. There is nothing in the world to replace the look on a child's face when he has received his first A or good grade that he earned on his own. His opinion of himself improves because he sees that he is not 'dumb' as he thought he was. With this additional one-to-one help, in time, the child should be able to overcome his problems and be able to take his rightful place in society."

The parents' role in this program should not be minimized. Mrs. Stimmel will frequently offer suggestions to the parents of ways in which they may help their child at home. One of the most important roles the parents play is in offering the child patience, encouragement, understanding, structure, and reasonable discipline in the home. Mrs. Stimmel explained there are thirty children enrolled in the self-contained classrooms at Sunbury Elementary School and she presently has nine whom she is tutoring. Some children need the surroundings of a self-contained classroom and seemingly do better in such a classroom. When observed Friday, Mrs. Cole at Brown Elementary had eight boys in her class. She also has one girl enrolled, but she was absent that day.

A teacher in a classroom situation really has to be a special type of person, for she certainly has more "individuals" under her tutelage than any other type of teacher.

The pupils in the learning disability classes, or tutoring program, are under physicians care. Many must have medication—some depressants, some stimulants. The entire idea behind the program is to prepare the child in the best way possible whereby he or she may overcome his or her difficulties and be able to progress with the learning of which they are mentally capable.
