Council Discusses Water Problems

"We were finally able to pump from the quarry for 24 hours and we think we can get 40,000-50,000 gallons a day for 100,000 gallons daily. Through the first half of November, he said, the water plant processed about 550,000 gallons daily."

"So without water in the dam when we're losing ground," councilman Douglas Lehrke commented. He challenged the understanding that pumping water to Sunbury from the old shale quarries in Galena would be a better solution.

"The pipe and the installation were free," councilman Dennis Bell replied. "The pumping was not free. We always assumed our employees would handle the operation. We didn't believe it would not be that much work and the pump would pump 1,500 gallons a minute."

Bell said estimated costs of gas and oil to keep the pump going for 90 days were $17,000 and $1,384 respectively. Both villages may be able to switch to electric pumps provided by Nestle. He also said street department employees who are handling the operation have been rescheduled to start work.

"You are paying half of what you would have paid for a permanent solution," BST&G Fire Chief William Fling pointed out.

"Del-Co would sell us water for 25 cents a gallon. That water would be substantially more expensive than that and they would be passed on to our residents," Bell said.

Asking Del-Co Water Co. to lay a line from its plant to Sunbury to ease the village's recurring water problems was discussed at the last meeting.

Ted Forman, who was elected to council beginning in January, said he recently talked with Del-Co General Manager Ron McAdams and found out Del-Co officials would not guarantee turning the tap on everytime Sunbury needed water and that Del-Co rates are going up soon.

Concillman Park Mayhew wondered if tying in with Del-Co would eliminate the village's need to build a new reservoir.

Concillman Park Mayhew pointed out that Del-Co owns the lines and that the village could become completely dependent on Del-Co for water.

Lager said he talked with McAdams the day after the last council meeting and McAdams said Del-Co could charge $100 to install the line, $2 for every 1,000 gallons; that Del-Co would own the lines and that they would not be able to pump water in the summer, but there shouldn't be any problem October-March.

"I am disturbed that people are taking sides," Lager says. "They just formed it and stuck it in the Dutch oven to cook."

Even old Indian recipes Helwig has found used salt, peppers and wild onions for seasoning. Butters, nutmeats, honey and sugar also were used for flavoring.

the 61 and 3 intersection into the town so something can be done with it," Bell commented.

Council asked Boger to determine whether the village is obligated to pay for damage to tombstones in the Sunbury cemetery. Several have been vandalized this year, three more just recently. One was completely destroyed, clerk Jean Lehrke reported.

Boger said the village insurer thinks the village is not liable.

"If we are negligent in allowing damage to take place then that might be a different question," Boger said.

"I think the public would like action from us," Lehrke said. "Has this been discussed with the police chief? Could we initiate some kind of reward?"

"I think the police chief knows about it," Lehrke said. "It looks like something has to be done."

Walnut Street resident Larry Dixie asked council for the second time in recent months to consider a sign above a crossing on his street. Council discussed installing a stop sign on the southbound lane, increasing police patrols and asking Police Chief Walter Nease for his recommendation.

Council decided to get further information from its engineering firm Stults and Associates before paying a $6,005 bill for a survey of the Sunbury playground. Lehrke told council to purchase an order soon for the job in October, 1988, was for $1,000.

In other business, Council approved spending $11,045 to repair the vault door and install a fire door in the Municipal Building.

A resolution approving a 5-year contract with Columbus Southern Power Co. for street lighting received a first reading.

The sum of $35,000 was transferred from the General Fund to the Street Department, and Solicitor Boger asked council to think of two people to appoint to the Community Re-investment Area Housing Council in December.

Lehrke reported she has narrowed her search for a village computer system from 10 to three. She said representatives of the state auditor's office would be meeting with the three vendors around the first of December to consider the remaining bids.

Council decided to consider purchasing a new copier next year rather than buying a new drum for the old one once more.

Corn — Staple for Ohio's Indians, Settlers

Corn was a staple for Ohio's Indians and early settlers. Virginia Helwig's re-enactment group cooked up corn prepared in a variety of ways.

At a table laden with corn dishes, Helwig pours corn tea. On her right is a dish of corn pudding and on the left is Indian Corn Stew.

In the center of the picture is

Pioneer Cooking Was Quite a Feat

fed her family of five or two meals a day prepared over a wood fire.

She adapted old recipes to feed crowds of people who came to the village on special occasions. She demonstrated pioneer cooking at the Festival of American Folk Life in Washington, D.C., and at folk festivals around the state.

"I got so I could cook about anything on an open fire," she says.

One of her favorite meals is an Indian Corn Stew dating back to 1860. (See "Care To Share" column for recipe.)

"I found the ingredients in a Frenchman's will," Helwig says.

ratates. "The Indians served it to him. He said it was the best stew he'd ever had."

Since corn was a staple, many of the old Indian and pioneer recipes Helwig has found are soups and stews.

The Indians, she says, would cook a cornmeal and water hockeay by plumping a spoonful of the raw mixture on the hot rocks encircling the fire.

"I believe they would even cook it over a rock-heated rock," Helwig says. "It would take a long time, but if they were tending their field it could cook while they worked."

The pioneer woman might cook the same cornmeal mixture on a low rock over her fireplace, by scraping the fire aside, dropping the mush on the hot spot underneath and covering it with her ashes.

Helwig has found recipes for corn posse, corn puddings, corn pancakes, cornbreads, corn cookies, corn oysters, corn tea and, of course, corn whiskey. There was dried or parched corn, and, finally, which was made by baking corn for hours in a by-water solution.

One of Helwig's oldest recipes is an Indian corn pudding made with cornmeal, water, honey and nuts along the banks of the Muskingum River around 1820.

Helwig, an attorney and historian, her husband, Richard, says the earliest Ohio settlers copied cooking techniques from the Indians.

"It was very difficult to start a fire, so it was the woman's job to keep it going," he says. "They'd have meat drying on the back of the fire. They didn't have iron pots or skillets, but they did have ceramic vessels. They would drop rocks in the vessel to heat water."

When white settlers moved into Ohio, they brought iron pots and skillets with them, Virginia Helwig says. Many were the "spider" type, with legs to sit easily in a hot fire.

Helwig is one of the founders of AuGlaize Village, an 1800s village in Defiance county. She spent most of her time there for nine years and fed her family of five or two meals a day cooked pioneer style over an open fire.

Community Thanksgiving Is Wednesday

Community Thanksgiving Service will be tonight, Wednesday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the St. John Neumann Catholic Church.

Host Father Thomas Becker, rector of St. John Neumann Catholic Church, will deliver the message entitled "The Pilgrims' Pastor's Letter." Other members of the Big Walnut Ministerial Assoc. will join the service.

Community Chorus, under the direction of Dave Simmons, Galena U.M.C., will sing "Now Thank We All Our God" and "For the Beauty."

Free food and money offering will be taken, with the food offering of non-perishable items being collected for the food pantry of Living Word Fellowship. Money offering will go into the treasury of the Ministerial Assoc. to be used toward its works.

New feature, according to Rev. Bender, for this year's service will be a "Pilgrims' Reception" following the service. The reception will feature a variety of home-made bread, "and lots of friendliness," Father Bender invites.

Organizes Greens Hanging, Contest

Big Walnut Area Chamber of Commerce will once again sponsor the annual "hanging of the greens" on the Sunbury Square, and the 15th annual Holiday Decorating Contest.

Roger Neibarger, who is coordinating both events for the Chamber says the greens will be available this Saturday on the square. He adds that entry for the contest will be available through The News, and some forms may be available early next week through area merchants.

Members of local service organizations will be available Saturday to help with the greens, reports Neibarger. As in past years, half the cost of the greens will be paid by the Chamber.

Neibarger invites any and all to come to the square on Saturday from 1 p.m. until about 2 p.m. to lend a hand.

The deadline for entering the Chamber of Commerce Holiday Decorating Contest, which is being held in addition to the Delaware County Board of Realtors Home Decorating Contest, will be Dec. 17.

As in past years, the contest will include four categories: Best Doorway, Children's Delight, Best Commercial and Holiday Traditions. In addition to the $25 award given to the winners in each category, an additional $50 gift certificate will be awarded to the entry judged the "best of show," and two judges' mention awards will also be offered, one for $15, one for $10. No entry will receive more than one award.

Judging for the contest will be done Dec. 18 and 19, entrants are to have their lights on both evenings, says Neibarger.

To enter, or for more information, contact Neibarger at 7225 SR 61, Sunbury, 460-3822.

through their blankets and then wrapping the blankets back around their shoulders.

He also notes that Johnny Appleseed planted herbs as well as trees and wherever he went his herbs are still found growing wild.

Drying was the primary means of preserving for the early settlers. Corn could be dried on the cob. Fruits and meats were sun dried. Vegetables were pickled. Hams and bacon were sugar or salt cured. In a preserving practice called "larding," pork and sausages were packed in cracks filled with lard.

Hewig says, "I'm up after cooking and never seem to present any special problem. The settlers cooked in lots of grease, which kept the pots well-seasoned and easy to clean. Nature provided a natural preserving Russell for sticky spots."

The pioneers always ate a hearty breakfast, had their main meal at midday and used the leftovers at supper. Hewig says, "They had a very day and records show a pre-dinner of meat and potatoes."

"They often had potatos three times a day," Hewig says, and pie every day. Pickles were always on the table.

Hewig now works as a teacher at Liberty Community Center where she doesn't cook much over open fires and in fireplaces. However, she says, she loves to cook on the grill at home when the weather is suitable and always "pots" something on Saturdays.

"The Thanksgiving dinner will be, pre-cooked on the stove. The menu won't be any different from the one the area's pioneers had except for the brownies her son, John, is bringing.

Gas Co. Offers Winter Savings Tips

With old man winter peering around the corner, the citizens of Ohio wants you to be warm and comfortable while keeping your gas bill as low as possible. Eugene F. Leffler, manager for the Sunbury area says:

"Consumers should want any customers to use more natural gas than they absolutely need," Leffler says. "We all want to stay warm while the winter winds howl and there are ways to do this without using any more gas than necessary."

Leffler offers these tips to help customers enjoy the winter:

—Weatherstrip or caulk around doors and doors of unoccupied rooms so that the primary areas used receive the maximum heat benefit.

—If possible, set the thermostat to a lower temperature. If someone in the family has health problems, first consult a doctor.

—Open drapes during sunny days to use the sun's warmth and then close them after sundown to keep the day's warmth.

—Wear a sweater to keep comfortable, rather than turn up the thermostat.

—Customers having trouble paying their gas bills are urged to contact the gas company to make arrangements. "It's much better to do this earlier rather than wait until a problem gets out of control," says Leffler.

GOP YR's To Host McEwen Event at JVS

Members of the Delaware County Young Republican Club invite the public to meet with the Honorable Bob McEwen, Representative to the United States Congress. Congressman McEwen is currently seeking the Republican nomination for the United States Senate to oppose Howard Metzenbaum in the 1988 general election.

This informal gathering will give veterans opportunity to become more involved and to become better informed about critical issues. Refreshments will be served.

The meeting will be held at the Delaware Joint Vocational School, Thursday, Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

CORC Begins Recruitment of Youthful Workers

CORC Job Training, the operations arm of the Delaware County Private Industry Council, is launching two special drives this month.

John Tombraige, Chairman of CORC's Youth Committee says the organization will emphasize the recruitment of young people to the area. Tombraige says young people needing a job or special training should call 369-7647 or 548-6665 and ask for further information. The service is free, he emphasizes, and is designed to get young people job-ready and ultimately employed.

CORC is also beginning to recruit young summer workers. The organization is planning to hire 100 young workers in Delaware county for the summer of 1988.

Henry Banks, Chairman of the Adult Committee of the Private Industry Council states that the Council through CORC, is now searching for workers for Delaware county businesses and industries.

Banks says that a call to the above numbers will lead unemployed persons to the county resources to good jobs. There are no charges for these services. Banks reports and adds "we need workers!"

*Pamela Monroe,
Michael Sheets Wed*

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sheets

Pamela Ann Monroe and Michael Loren Sheets exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, Nov. 7 at 1:30 at the Condit Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Monroe, 1846 N. Main Street. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Sheets, 823 Dent Road, Sunbury.

Rev. Alan Thalhuber was the officiant. Karen Drummond and Sue Glavin, friends of the bride and groom, were soloists; their mother, Louise Drummond, was the pianist. Bonnie Caudill, friend of the bride and bridegroom, was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white gown of lace and sheer chiffon with a Queen Ann neckline, lace bodice and puffed sleeves. The full skirt of sheer chiffon was swaged with a large lace ruffle. The bodice was flossed, trimmed with chiffon ribbon. The bridal bouquet was made of white stephanotis, miniature carnations and spider mums, accented with red lace and a red baby's breath. The bride wore a pearl necklace and earrings given to her by the bridegroom.

The bridegroom wore black tails, a white cummerbund and tie and boutonniere.

Jenifer Hudak, friend of the bride, was the maid of honor. Laurie Arnold Kopf, Laura Houser, and Kim Horne, friends of the bride, were the bridal attendants.

They wore short sleeve, floor length, royal blue satin dresses with a ruched lace overlay, basque waistline with satin belt and matching lace gloves. Their bouquets were made of white stephanotis, and light and royal blue miniature carnations, and mums. They wore white stephanotis and baby's breath in their hair. Michael Housler, the bride's sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore a dress similar to the other attendants except the skirt was made of satin.

Max Davenport, friend of the bridegroom, was the best man. He wore a black tuxedo with a royal blue cummerbund, tie and boutonniere. The groomsmen Doug Hergatt, Mark Noltemier, and Jim Arens were friends of the bridegroom. They also wore black tuxedos with royal blue trimmings.

Head ushers were Mark Monroe, brother of the bride, and Ken Sheets, brother of the bridegroom. They wore black tuxedos with white handkerchiefs and black trimmings, as did the fathers of the bride and bridegroom.

Patricia Drummond, cousin of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. He wore black tuxedo and tie. The ring pillow was handmade by Lib Bremer, friend of the bride and bridegroom.

Rod Neumann, uncle of the bride, and Vickie Sheets, aunt of the bridegroom, were the liturgists.

Bridal assistants were Linda Monroe, aunt of the bride, Linda Callahan, Jamie Vorath and Lynn Vorath, cousins of the bride, Amanda, Jennifer and Valerie Wier, friends of the bride, Jennifer Drummond and Tarras Sheets, cousins of the bridegroom.

About 30 of the guests were kind enough to view the wedding closed circuit television in the church basement to avoid crowding the sanctuary. During the ceremony, the father of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom sang a duet of "Sunrise, Sunset" to the honored couple. Later in the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom showed their love and gratitude by presenting the mothers with roses.

A reception was held for the 240 guests at the Holiday Inn in Delaware, with the Buckeye State Harmonica Band and the Sultans Dance Band as entertainers.

The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of the University of Big Walnut High School and a 1987 Ohio State University graduate with a Master of Arts degree in Speech and Language Pathology. The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of the University of Big Walnut High School and a 1986 Ohio State University graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Engineering. Mick is presently employed as a computer engineer by Cargill, Inc. in Dallas, Tx.

Following a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains and the Thanksgiving holiday with friends and family, they will move to their new home at 3419 Country Club No. 291, Irving, Tx 75068.

Out of state guests came from California, Florida, Indiana, Illinois, and Virginia.

by Jennie Kavage

It always seems appropriate at Thanksgiving time to think back to the days when we ventured into the unknown with hope for a new and better life. The beginnings could not have been much less harsh for Ohio's early settlers than it was for the Mayflower pilgrims.

Virginia Helwig, who is co-reporter of the Cheshire-Johnny-cake column in The Sunbury News, spent nine years working at AuGlaize Village, an 1890s village in Defiance county. While she worked, she cooked her family's meals pioneer style over an open fire. (See story on page 1.)

One of the family favorites, Virginia says, is this Indian Corn Stew. She found a list of the ingredients in a Frenchman's journal written about 1880.

Indian Corn Stew

2 T. butter
1 lb. venison (or ground beef)
1 onion, diced
1 green pepper, chopped
3 T. salt
1/2 tsp. salt

Brown meat. Add remaining ingredients. Stew several hours. Add liquid as needed.

Since corn was a staple for the Indians and the settlers it was different in taste, Virginia says. Instead she made this corn pudding in the Maumee Valley in 1920.

Matthew Drummond, cousin of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. He wore black tuxedo and tie. The ring pillow was handmade by Lib Bremer, friend of the bride and bridegroom.

Rod Neumann, uncle of the bride, and Vickie Sheets, aunt of the bridegroom, were the liturgists.

Bridal assistants were Linda Monroe, aunt of the bride, Linda Callahan, Jamie Vorath and Lynn Vorath, cousins of the bride, Amanda, Jennifer and Valerie Wier, friends of the bride, Jennifer Drummond and Tarras Sheets, cousins of the bridegroom.

About 30 of the guests were kind enough to view the wedding closed circuit television in the church basement to avoid crowding the sanctuary. During the ceremony, the father of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom sang a duet of "Sunrise, Sunset" to the honored couple. Later in the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom showed their love and gratitude by presenting the mothers with roses.

A reception was held for the 240 guests at the Holiday Inn in Delaware, with the Buckeye State Harmonica Band and the Sultans Dance Band as entertainers.

The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of the University of Big Walnut High School and a 1986 Ohio State University graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Engineering. Mick is presently employed as a computer engineer by Cargill, Inc. in Dallas, Tx.

Following a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains and the Thanksgiving holiday with friends and family, they will move to their new home at 3419 Country Club No. 291, Irving, Tx 75068.

Out of state guests came from California, Florida, Indiana, Illinois, and Virginia.

Soup, she says, is excellent for simmering over an open fire.

Ham and Bean Soup

1 lb. dry beans
1 ham bone

1 onion, diced
2 stalks celery, sliced
2 carrots, chunked

8 whole peppercorns

Some beans are dried. Drain

all ingredients and simmer several hours. Remove ham bone and ham pieces. Return to the broth.

(For a treat, use several kinds of dried beans in equal portions. Also add 1/2 lb. split peas to original recipe.)

Virginia says this is a good recipe for children to use to make butter.

Corn Pone

Mix together:

2 cups corn meal

1 T. salt

1/4 t. baking powder

Work in with fingers:

4 T. lard

Pour in and stir:

3/4 cup boiling water

Add liquid as needed.

Mold or pat into small flat cakes.

Place in "spider" (iron skillet) or hot bricks to bake, or bake at 350 degrees in oven for 35 minutes.

Mush

Mix together:

1 cup cornmeal

1 cup cold water

1 salt

Sir into:

4 cups boiling water

Bubble until thick. Serve in bowls. Drizzle with syrup or pour into molds to set. Fry.

Hasty Pudding

Add any leftovers to mush and cook over an open fire. Serve hot.

Ham and Bean

Virginia says pioneer women often cooked one pot meals

because the food could be attended while they did something else. This Ham and Bean will be served.

The meeting will begin at 12:30 and the open house will commence immediately afterward.

The officers to be seated on the platform are: Chairman, Vice President - Elaine Raynak,

Secretary - Angi Grubb and Treasurer - Donna Loy.

The meeting and open house will be held at the society's shelter located at 301 S. Main Street.

The shelter will be open for adoption and refreshments will be served.

blended. Serve on crackers.

Virginia particularly recommends the following recipe as topping.

Apple Snow

Peel and grate a large tart apple. Sprinkle 1/4 c. powdered sugar over the apple.

Break two egg whites into the apple and beat all constantly until light and fluffy.

Spoon over custard pudding, pie, cake or use as a compote or light dessert.

Beef Jerky

Trim meat 1/2 hour so it will be easier to cut. Slice very thin and soak in water for 24 hours.

(Virginia says a delicious beef jerky can be made by marinating beef in wine for a few hours and then smoking it.)

Roasted Apples

Place on a stick and cook over the open fire until heated through. Roll in cinnamon sugar

if desired.

Applebutter Spread

1/2 cup applebutter

3 oz. cream cheese

2 T. chopped peanuts

2 T. chopped celery

Combine and beat until well

Pablum-Prom Gets Ready for Bazaar

Pablum to Prom O.C.C.L. are busy getting ready for their 15th Annual Little Shoppers Bazaar.

The bazaar is always held on the first Saturday in December, this year on Saturday, Dec. 5, from 9:00 a.m. and last until 12:00 noon. It is a time for children to do their own Christmas shopping for Mom, Dad, siblings, grandparents, teachers, and others.

The bazaar will be held at Big Walnut Intermediate School (next to Townley's Sunbury IGA).

A variety of items are available for the shoppers to purchase, from home-made crafts, to ready-made items. While the parents are waiting for their children to pick out just the right gift they can enjoy a cup of coffee and look over baked goods that will be for sale.

Tickets for the raffle items will be available for $0.50 each or 3 for $1.00.

The raffle items will be personalized hand-embroidered Christmas sign and a child-size airplane rocker toy. These items can be seen in the window of Shaw's Pharmacy along with the other items available for the little shoppers to purchase during their outing.

Pablum to Prom O.C.C.L. held its November meeting at Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church. Linda Alaby of Happy Canine Helpers, Inc. presented a slide show and talk on the importance of support dogs trained by her organization in Johnstown. Al Ballinger and his dog, Toma demonstrated some of the things dogs are trained to do assist a handicapped person.

Holiday night was Nov. 7 with pizza at Pizzeria Uno followed by bowling at Capri Lanes.

Joan Hunter won the mystery gift.

Erlene Girberd became a grandmother three weeks early. December's meeting will be held at the home of Sandy Imretz. Members will exchange an ornament from a foreign land.

YOUR EYES

By Dr. Brian A. Dittenber

SOFT COLOR
CONTACTS

Confused about soft color contact lenses? Don't be. There are three basic types of soft color contacts.

The newest color contact lenses can change brown eyes to blue, green, aqua or hazel. The blue or green-eyed patient can have lenses to change the eyes to hazel.

The first color contact lenses made only enhanced the color of the eyes you were born with. They added vibrancy, sparkle or a glow of green or blue or light-colored eyes. Amber lenses gave brown eyes a shimmer of amber highlights.

Lightly tinted contact lenses have been available for some time. The tinted contact lens of this tint is to make it easier for the wearer to find a lost lens, or one that is not centered on the cornea of an eye.

Soft color contact lenses are optically precise. They are comfortable to wear, and can provide cosmetic excitement to the way you look.

Brought to you as a community service by Dr. Brian A. Dittenber, Optometrist, 30 South Vernon Street, Sunbury, Ohio, 460-4871.

FmHA Has Low Income Home Loan Funds

Farmers Home Administration has loan funds available for purchase or construction of single family dwellings for low-income applicants according to Carlton O'Neal, the FmHA county supervisor for Delaware, Marion and Morrow counties.

The office servicing these counties is located at 3220 SR 95
West, Mt. Gilead.

The program is for low-income applicants. Since income limits vary by region, the FmHA office will determine if an applicant qualifies.

One of the eligibility requirements for an FmHA loan is that applicants must be without decent, safe and sanitary housing. They must be unable to obtain credit from other sources at reasonable terms and conditions. However, the applicant must have adequate income to meet living expenses, pay for insurance and maintenance costs, and to repay present debts and the proposed loan, O'Neal says.

Farmers Home Administration
loan make it possible for people of low and moderate incomes to become owners of adequate homes.
When the borrower's financial condition improves so that the loan can be refinanced through usual credit sources, the FmHA rep adds.

During fiscal year 1987, FmHA loans provided homes to more than 70 applicants in Delaware, Marion and Morrow counties.
FmHA loans more than $2,370,000 in housing loans in these counties last year.

FmHA does not compete with the efforts of commercial lenders, but rather offers programs to supplement regular credit sources, O'Neal concludes.

County Lady Leads Horseman's Council

Ohio Horseman's Council Inc. held their annual meeting in Columbus Nov. 1.

The 1988 officers were elected and the following officers were chosen: Plummer West, Delaware, president; Kirk Fenton, Canal Winchester, vice-president; Teresa Reno, Canton, Secretary; and Kathy Bruno, Worthington, treasurer.

The Ohio Horseman's Council Inc. is a non-profit organization that currently has approximately 900 members throughout the state of Ohio. Becky Plummer-West has been a member of the council for many years and has held the office of president of the Delaware county chapter for 3 terms. She is active in trail riding and worked with the State of Ohio on the Sun Creek Trail expansion this spring.

She is employed by Wendy's International Inc. in Dublin, and is a sales associate for Donabue Better Homes and Gardens Realty. Becky is also the niece of Chas and Ellen Plummer of Galena and sister of Patti Merle also of Galena.

Kirk Fenton and Kathy Bruno are also Delaware county chapter members and have been very active on the state level for many years.

Kirk is currently working on an Ohio Horse Industry Fair plan, similar to the one held in Indianapolis each year. He is employed by Wendy's International.

Kathy is very active with the Columbus Zoo and has shown horses for many years throughout Ohio and also does horse show judging. She is employed by Worthington Foods and Dan

Becky Plummer-West

Slane Realy.

The Delaware County Chapter currently has approximately 90 members and meets the 3rd Friday each month at the Tri-Township Fire House at 7 p.m. It is an all-breed, all-purpose organization and is open to all horse lovers.

News Around Condit

by Nancy Fuller

Happy Thanksgiving everyone! We wish you and your family a safe and happy week.

There was no school last Thursday and Friday due to Parent Teacher conferences. This week the students are out Thursday and Friday again, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Get-well wishes are sent to everyone who has been ill with the flu. Maybe the good cold spell we are having this weekend will kill off the flu germs before the holiday season.

Friday the 13th was Grandparents Day at the Souders Elementary School. Sheila and I attended Grandparents Day at Souders Elementary.

Grandparents were sent to our son-in-law, Randy Longshore, who has a fractured thumb.

Callers at our house have been numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Longshore, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Veinmont Wilson.

Do call me with your holiday greetings.

Grandma Fuller told her to ask Santa for it and he took care of it. Santa was nice to Santa and I really need it now!

So she buttered up her Grandpa Fuller and got the toy. Needless to say, who is on her bad list? Bill and I think that's what Grandma's are for?

Happy birthday to Matt Murphy! He and his wife enjoyed a wonderful day with their baby boy while they were away, but took time out along with Matt's mother, to

Harlem News 'n Notes

by Betty Johnson

Viola and Marvin Scholl visited her mother, Wenzella Mullins, recently. Mrs. Mullins attended and enjoyed the Uptown-Westerville Middle School Homecoming and the International Fair last week.

Callers of Mary and Sterling Johnson this week were Rev. Tom Woods, Martha Debolt, Emma Louise Everts, Mary Jane Fisher, and Jim and Juanita Parady.

If you have noticed the swags with bright red ribbons on the areas cornerstones, you liked to thank the ladies of the Harlem Township Garden Club. This is the fourth year for this nice tradition. On Dec. 5 at 7:30 the club will decorate a Colorado Blue Spruce tree that they moved to the area across from the firehouse. Any community-minded person is welcome to help.

The firemen of the Garden Club have been sponsoring this tree trim for three or four years. The tree was placed in the heart of Centerville and opposite the Center Village Post Office for a couple of years. Last year one was set up in front of the firehouse. This year Vicki and Ron Fischer, who are trimmers, will be the permanent fixture of the community.

Also on the 5th of December will be the Big Walk for the Homeless on the Square, starting around 5 p.m. in Sunbury. The oyster and chili supper put on by the Friends of the Library is always a big hit. The Guy Scouts, Boy Scouts and lots of other groups will participate to make this a wonderful event.

It's time for the Harlem Grange to get back at making the community a better place for the past several years. This Thanksgiving the Grange and the community can be truly thankful for the upswing in membership. The Grange does a lot of good things in the area and should be supported in every way possible.

The Harlem Garden Club met at Willie Hayes' home last Tuesday. Willie did a great job and tell about air drying and arranging everlasting flowers. The group is sponsoring a trip to Boka candle factory and show room near Lancaster this Friday, Nov. 27.

Remember to save your turkey carcass and wire it up in a tree for the birds to pick all the bits of meat from the bones. They'll have a happy Thanksgiving, too.

United Closes Business Office For Thanksgiving

The United Telephone Business Office will be closed in observance of the Thanksgiving Day holiday and will open for business on Friday, Nov. 27," according to Jim Palmer, Community Relations Manager.

"Repair personnel will be on duty if an emergency occurs and you will find a repair number listed in the white pages in the front of your phone book," Palmer added.

Houser Is Runner-up Hereford Queen

Beth Houser of Sunbury was named the second runner-up in the National Polled Hereford Queen competition held during the National Polled Hereford Convention-Show-Sale. The activities took place Nov. 8-10 in Kansas City, Mo., in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock Show.

Beth is the 19-year-old daughter of Robert and Nancy Houser and has enjoyed working with Polled Herefords since she became a member of the National American Polled Hereford Association 10 years ago. She was also involved in high school activities, including serving as class president, student council president, playing in the band and participating in sports. She has been active in 4-H and the Sunbury United Methodist Church. She is currently a freshman at The Ohio State University.

Distribute Surplus Goods Wednesday

Distribution of surplus government commodities will take place next Wednesday, Dec. 2, from 9 until noon at the normal two area places.

Commodities will be distributed at the American Legion Hall in Sunbury and Harlem Grange Hall, west of Center Village, at the same time. Items must be picked up during the 3-hour period, as items can not be held for anyone.

Surplus commodities are available to those qualifying for them.

their minds and remained over-night.

Glady Green is still suffering a lot of pain in her foot since she had surgery. She cannot be on her feet for three weeks and would enjoy hearing from her friends.

Amber Carroll spent the weekend with Grandma Helen Glaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flora on the 25th of November lost their son, Mark, in an automobile accident early Thursday morning.

His funeral was Sunday afternoon at the Memorial Funeral Home in Westerville, with Rev. Gary Carroll officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cross spent Sunday with his parents, Forrest and Pauline Cross.

Ralph Davis of Downing Road suffered a massive heart attack at his home last week, and was in critical condition.

He was taken to Licking Memorial Hospital, where his son, a next door neighbor, Chris Geiger. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Marguerite Bennett was a Thursday overnight guest of her daughter, Linda Long, of Reynoldsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Delano Clark announced the birth of a 9 lb. 4 oz. baby girl. The baby has been named Brandon Michael. Clark and Grandma Juanita Clark spent a few days last week with little Joshua.

Mrs. Allen Seales of Painesville and her formerly of this area, had the good fortune to break her arm and shoulder bone.

Sunday evening Gary and Jennifer Carroll and daughters hosted an American birthday party honoring Hanna Tare, a 10-year-old girl visiting here from Finland. The cake was decorated by Helen Hunter. The Carrolls made an 8-foot banana split, and the young people split it. T-shirts were given with each one bearing their names on the back. What a nice remembrance for her to take back to Finland. Later they enjoyed a meal at the "Elderly Center" to Camp. Those attending the party were Gary, Fred, and Jeff Lyon, Hank Hale, Bryan Grove, Mindy and Ernie Newsome, Gussie, Roger Bishop, Gary and Jennifer Carroll and daughters, Rachael, Charity, and Amber, and the honored guest, Hanna Tare.

Nov. 27 and 28 will be the Ohio

"WEAPON AGAINST GUM DISEASE"

The daily use of baking soda and hydrogen peroxide paste may prevent the need for gum surgery in many people.

Periodontitis, or "gum disease," results from the accumulation of bacteria. Called "plaque," between the gumline and the teeth. The plaque soon hardens and causes pockets of infection to form. Usually there is no pain, so most people neglect treatment until the gum bleed and teeth loosen.

As a result, gum disease accounts for half of all teeth lost by people over the age of 15. It's also a social bane as the leading cause of halitosis (bad breath).

Traditional gum surgery involves cutting into the pockets of infection, rinsing the infected tissue, and reattaching the gums to the teeth.

If you think you are a candidate for periodontal treatment, discuss the new procedure with your dentist. They may recommend at least trying the new regimen before you resort to periodontal surgery.

Happenings in Cheshire, Johnnycake

By Eleanor S. Griffith
and Virgil G. Helwig

Our community is saddened by the tragic accident and death of Mark Della Flora of S. 3B's & K Rd. He was killed in an auto accident on Nov. 12. He is survived by his parents, Carl and Mildred Della Flora; three sisters, Cathy Straley, Susan Della Flora, Lynn Long and a brother, Carl. His grandmother, Mrs. Della Flora, resides in the former Frank Williams property. Sympathy is extended to the family. Many people reported that they attended the funeral.

CORRECTION

Pastor James H. Meacham and Pastor Wayne Booth both offered to lead the funeral service of Heribert Riedel.

Pastor Meacham's name was omitted from last week's obituary.
The News regrets the error.

Decca Dunham Will Present Concert Sunday

Decca (Merdeath) Dunham

Sunday evening Nov. 29, Decca (Merdeath) Dunham will present a concert at the Sunbury Church of Christ. The service will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Dunham is a 1982 graduate of Big Walnut High School. She is currently living in Berrian Springs, Mi., where she is completing her education for a nursing degree.
Her husband, Tom, is a seminary student at Drew's University.

Decca has been a guest artist on both radio and T.V. in her local area. This will be her first concert as she returns to her home church. She is the daughter of Dorrey and Cathy Merdeath of Sunbury.

Community members are invited to come and share in this inspirational service of worship in song. A special invitation is extended to Decca's former student friends and friends in this area. Joe Biffen is the minister of the Sunbury Church of Christ.

Oscar C. Holobaugh, Rockwell Retiree, Dies Sunday, Nov. 15

Retired Rockwell employee,
Oscar Clark Holobaugh, died Nov. 15 at St. Ann's Hospital of an apparent heart attack.

Holobaugh, of Harlem township, was a model builder at Rockwell, retiring from there after 30 years. He previously had been employed at Seagraves Fire Equipment Co.

A 1941 graduate of Central High School, Holobaugh was a World War II Navy veteran. He was an instructor at Bombs Site School in Florida. He had served in Guam and Tinian in the South Pacific.

He attended Eastwood Seventh Day Adventist Church and was a member of the Archaeological Society of Ohio. He was also a member of the National Woodcarvers Assoc. and the NRA.

He is survived by his wife,
Viola; mother, Laura, of Riverdale, Md.; son, Robert; wife, Clyde; and Mary Pat of Harlem twp., and their daughters, Sara Louise and Holly Christina; daughter and son-in-law, Judith and Curtis Cowan, and their children, Curtis and Chery Lynn; Christine Viole, Cydney Pauline, Clark Hullum and Cameron Blair, all of Boiling Spring Lake, N.C.; sister and brother-in-law, Virginia and
O. G. Clegg, of St. Rt. 37, Sunbury; Ohio; and Nellie McDermott and Jeanne Holobaugh; nieces and nephews; beloved dog, "Taffy"; and very good friend, Harry Himes.

Services were held last Wednesday at Mt. Zion Christian

Chapel, Gahanna, and burial was made in Maplewood Cemetery.
