Bomb Scare Forces Evacuation of County Banks

"I don't want anyone to get hurt, but a bomb is set to go off in your building at 1:30," said a female voice in a call to the Delaware County Bank's main office in downtown Delaware Tuesday noon.

Three follow-up calls, all by a male voice, brought in the Delaware police and firemen and forced the evacuation of the bank building and its two Delaware branches.

After checking out the buildings, without finding anything, the buildings were put back into use at 1:45.

"Everyone was on edge for a while, but we're back to normal now," DeWight Humes, Delaware County Bank official, told the News. "We have no idea of the source or the reason why someone would want to do something like this," he added.

Flames Demolish Old Dyer Home on Sunbury Road

Fire destroyed the Thomas Lacey home on Sunbury Rd. early Sunday morning as bad wiring sparked the fall of one of the oldest structures in the area. No one was injured in the blaze and the Lacey returned home about 2 a.m. to find firemen and passersby trying to get as many antiques out of the inferno as possible.

the remains, with a fire truck in the center of the second story. Pillars are all that's left of the veranda which once adorned the front of the building.

Fire, thought to have been caused by faulty wiring, roared through one of the oldest homes in the area early Sunday morning completely demolishing the structure south of Galena.

Men and equipment from three departments battled the blaze at 3010 Sunbury Rd. for nearly three hours, knocking down the flames long enough to save many pieces of antique furniture, before keeping vigil the rest of the night as the 146 year old landmark burned to the ground.

The Thomas Lacey family was not at home when the fire broke out as they were seeing movie in Columbus, according to Mr. Lacey. They returned about 2 p.m. Sunday morning to find firemen and passersby in and out of their burning home, trying to save as many antiques as possible.

Galena Fire Chief Fred Hummel told the News his men had just returned from another run about 11:58 p.m. Saturday when the phone rang, calling in the alarm. "I had just taken a cup of coffee from one of our auxiliary women and didn't even get a chance to finish it," he said.

The Galena firemen had just gotten back from a call to the Earl Mayenschine home, 9888 S. Old Sc., where Hummel said they had been able to avoid disaster before a faulty chimney blaze got out of hand.

"We just kept knocking it down and pulling more things out of the building until I thought it was too unsafe," Two tankers from Galena, one from BST, one from Berlin, Ersel Contrell's milk truck, and Hi Morris' water tanker were busy throughout the night hauling water from Galena to the blaze. "We had mighty fine response from both our own men and the other departments, we certainly appreciated it," said Hummel.

Hummel said the men continued to knock the blaze down until about 3 a.m. when a fuel oil tank in the basement started to burn. "We just backed off and let the rest go," he said. "I was scared for the safety of the men."

Hummel praised the Galena Auxiliary women for staying right at the scene all night with the men "with plenty of good coffee and sandwiches." "They even brought us breakfast later Sunday morning and I had two eggs and I never eat eggs."

The chief estimated the damage to the structure and contents at about $30,000 to $40,000. "There were so many antiques lost and you really can't put a value on them." The house itself was built, according to a plaque on a front veranda, in 1826 by J. Carter. The farm it used to be a part of is known as the Dyer farm; the Lacey's just bought it from Mike Chaston last summer.

Hummel said men remained on the scene until about 9:30 Sunday morning. "The Lacey's went to Columbus to stay with some relatives. Hummel said Mr. Lacey was mainly concerned with the loss of the antiques, "some of which have been in my family for over 200 years."

Lacey's wife told the News they had been having trouble with a plug which sparked in the living room. Hummel confirmed the bad wiring a probable cause Tuesday.

The Galena volunteers had returned from the Mayenschine home a just before the alarm sounded again. "We were down there about two hours, making sure we had that

Berlin Station Raid Trio Enter 'Guilty' Pleas Monday

Three Berlin Station Rd. men, charged with drug counts and scheduled to go to trial Monday, appeared in court that morning and changed their pleas to 'guilty' before jury was empaneled.

James E. Kanam, 20, Bryan D. Smith, 21, and Dominic J. Russo, 23, all three changed their pleas, two of which were to lesser charges, and all then asked for probation hearings. No date has been set for their hearings, pending pre-sentencing investigations.

All three men were indicted Jan. 4 for one count each of use of a house for illegal keeping of hallucinogens. Kanam and Smith pleaded guilty Monday to the lesser, misdemeanor charge, of possession of hallucinogens. Russo plead guilty to the original felony charge.

All three were picked up Dec. 2 along with Susie K. Patterson, 18, at a drug raid at 2612 Berlin Station Rd. Sheriff Eugene Jackson led a force of Delaware and Franklin county deputies, as well as men from the Columbus police force, in that raid.

Miss Patterson appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday for sentencing on a charge of possession of hallucinogens. She was fined $100.

Orlentangy Board Increases Supplementary Contracts

A sizeable increase in the extra-curricular assignment allowance, in the field of sport was adopted by the Orlentangy School Board during their January meeting. Details of the amounts were released at the Feb. 23rd board meeting showing an increase of at least one hundred dollars a year for the junior high sports and as high as four hundred dollars year increase for each major sport in the high school.

The high school girls' activities program will receive $400.00 while the cheerleader advisor's salary will be $300.00 and the Middle school cheerleader advisor $200.00. Nothing was allocated at this time for Junior High girls sports.

These schedules will be effective Aug. 1, and other than sports, the $700.00 band director for pre-school practice, marching band practice and contest trips, class play productions $150.00 each, $200.00 each. The extra-curricular amount set aside for sports amounts to $15,375.00 for the school year 1972-73.

During the brief board meeting held Feb. 23, all motions were accepted unanimously and brief discussion held on any voted motion.

A closed' work session took place one hour prior to the Board meeting as per the new policy established by the Board in January. Harold McNamara, board member later in the meeting pointed out to the guests in attendance that while everything they saw on the agenda had been discussed in the closed meeting that since some items needed more study on them they had been tabled until a later meeting.

Resignations were accepted from five teachers and three new staff members were hired, one the vocal music teacher for 20 days as a substitute with the understanding that if his work is acceptable he will be put on a regular salary for the remainder of the school year. Richard Chitty, an OSU graduate with a BME degree will have the vocal music duties replacing Mrs. Mary Crites who was hired at the January meeting and whose resignation was accepted Feb. 3.

Others who resigned effective immediately were Kathleen Coull, neurological handicapped teacher at the middle school and Loretta Breese, fourth grade teacher in the elementary building.

The resignations of Janice Reiff, sixth grade science teacher, and Barbara Mikelakis, former high school business teacher and seventh grade English teacher this year were accepted for the end of the school year.

No reasons were given in accepting the resignations.

Sandra Madsen, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, was hired to teach the Neurological Handicapped class and Susan Dick, a graduate of California State Teachers' College in Pennsylvania, was given a contract for elementary teaching

Penn Central Transportation Company is offering up to $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person who is found tampering with their property, according to a representative from the company who talked with Police Chief Walt Neace Wednesday.

Neace said an agent told him of vandalism to the railroad property in Sunbury, specifically to a sliding switch in their yards here. Neace said the man told him the lock on the switch had been broken off three times in the past three weeks and the switch tripped.

The reward will be paid upon the arrest and conviction of anyone "who damages or defaces this rail-

Thieves Take Horse Trailer Near Powell

Thieves apparently entered the property of Jack Schreck, 7940 SR 315, Sunday night and stole a horse trailer. Schreck, who lives in Columbus, reported to Deputy Sheriff L. Dillinger and Rollin A. Kiser that he left his farm about 7 p.m. Sunday and returned Monday morning to find the trailer missing. Schreck said the trailer had a four-horse capacity. He also said his wife might have it, but since he is separate from her, he doesn't know where to get in touch with her.

West Virginia Flood Wipes Out Former Galena Family of Six

The tragedy in West Virginia did not stay there, the effect of it was felt very strongly here in Ohio. The relatives of Dallas and Jeanette Osborn, former residents, spent a very hopeful, anxious week-end waiting for news from the cut-off area of West Virginia. Word finally came, but it was bad—the family was in the direct path of wa-

The Osborns have had a bad year since Dallas was hurt in a mine accident less than a year ago. He had only been home about thirty days of that entire time. He was to return to the hospital next week.

Jeanette was the sister of LeRoy O'Bryan and Edna Allier of Galena, Marion O'Bryan of Westerville, Erwin O'Bryan of Columbus, Talbert O'Bryan of Osnestown, Rosella Pick-simer of Hilliard, and Nellie Calles of Manata. She was a niece of Dolie Wright and cousin to Jack Maroney of Galena. The family had many personal friends in the area.

Mrs. Osborn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Bryan of Westerville. Jeanette took the 4 children to safe-ground and returned to the home to help her husband. When the children—18 months and 11, 15 and 16 years—saw the water coming, they ran to the house and their parents. All were lost. Funeral for the oldest son, Leo, only body yet found, will be Friday at 3:00.

The other family members are still missing and relatives have been told there is no chance of their survival.

Huntington Bank Pays $51,473 in Back Land Taxes

Huntington National Bank presented County Treasurer Madge Conklin with a check Thursday, paying all their back real estate taxes, as well as their taxes for the first half of 1971 billed this year.

The payment included a total of $51,473.82 in delinquent taxes mounting over the past six to ten years on approximately 530 acres in Harlem and Genoa townships. Most of this land was that of the former Elmer E. Follmer estate which is now Lake of the Woods and surrounding lands.

The payment also ended about a year's court action, ordering foreclosure on the real estate owned by Huntington Bank. The foreclosure was published in the Delaware Land Tax List in December 1970. Prosecutor Henry Marsh filed the proceedings last March for foreclosure.

Girls Charged with Probation Violation

Sunbury girl and a Galena girl apparently ran away from home in violation of probation over the weekend and were picked up by the State Patrol Monday morning and taken to the county jail.

According to the Sheriff office Regina Clair Hill, 16, Croton Rd., Sunbury, and Penny Sue Adams, 15, 38 1/2 Home St., Galena, apparently left home Saturday night, without their parents or guardians consent. Both are on probation from Juvenile Court after they ran away from home Dec. 20 and stole a car in Galena and then wrecked it.

Juvenile Judge Paul Barrett said hearing date for the two girls who face a charge of violation of probation had not yet been established when the News went to press. Barrett said it would probably be held yet this week.

Big Walnut Offers Curriculum Catalogue for Course Scheduling

"Let's Look at Literature" urges the title of one English course listed in Big Walnut's new high school catalogue being used by students to plan next year's schedule. The catalogue includes complete course descriptions of every offering in the Big Walnut schedule.

Replacing the old Student Handbook, the catalogue describes each course, so that students will know what the course is about, the number of days it's offered, credit given, whether it's a full year or semester course, recommended grade level at which students should take the course, and whether there are any prerequisite courses.

School officials have tried to present all this information in a lively and informative fashion with many new titles and new courses.

The biggest curriculum changes come in the English department where all courses will now be semester long, rather than a year. This move is allowing students more variety, courses that have current meaning to them and courses suited to both academically and vocationally oriented students.

Another area showing the greatest change is that of social studies, primarily American history. Like English, Social Studies is a required subject with three years called for in state standards. School officials have attempted to make these required subjects more appealing and meaningful to students, according to Curriculum Coordinator Douglas Theaker, who worked with staff members to develop the catalogue.

History courses, as well as those in the Spanish department, also have been broken down into semester courses to try to increase student

GENOA TRUSTEE RESIGNS OFFICE

After serving his township for ten years as trustee, Robert Higgins has resigned as a member of the board of trustees on which he was serving as vice chairman.

Trustee members Herron and Johnson appointed Edwin L. McAlain of 6131 South Old 31C to fill the vacancy caused by Higgins' resignation.

Mr. Higgins told that his work with the railroad conflicted many times with the township meetings and he was having to leave too much work to attend to the duties of his office as trustee. He started in office Jan. 1, 1962.

Farm Bureau Installs Fertilizer Blend Plant

Letters TO THE EDITOR IF NOT COUNCIL'S PROBLEM, WHOSE IS IT? Sunbury, Ohio 43074 February 28, 1972

Our congratulations go this week to all 4-H Club members and their advisors as they swing into 4-H membership week.

Tinkering with railroad switches can be very dangerous. Perhaps the youth of this community are unaware of the possible results.

Boys walking along the railroad tracks evidently have been tinkering with the switch breaking a lock which is on it.

To emphasize more the seriousness of the act, we find the Penn Central Transportation Company has offered to pay up to $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person who damages or defaces the railroad's property in any way.

Without a doubt, as in most communities, there are probably bounty-hunters in Sunbury and vicinity who would be happy to make some money on another's ill-conceived prank.

We urge all youth or adults who enjoy the pastime of tampering with railroad equipment or placing obstructions on the tracks to cease doing so before they get into trouble.

High school students in Delaware county are eligible to compete in a county-wide contest to design an emblem for Delaware County-Vocational School.

Students presenting the top four designs will win either a grand prize or one of the three $100 awards for honorable mention.

The contest gives an opportunity for all high school students in Delaware county and county schools to express in a symbol or emblem what they feel a joint vocational school represents.

The top-rated emblem will be used as the symbol for the proposed JVS. Students in the county's four high schools will compete within their own school with the top design from each school to be selected by the JVS Board of Education for final selection.

Students are encouraged by Runyan to check at their individual high schools for specific rules of the contest. Final entries must be submitted to the JVS Board of Education by Mar. 15 from the individual schools.

Polmer's heirs filed a motion in April asking the court to allow them to intervene in the proceedings, and in May, Huntington filed an amended order for a sheriff's writ which trust funds pertained to which lands in the estate.

Last month, Judge O. W. Whitney, Jr., overruled the hearing motion and told the bank it had until Feb. 22 to pay the taxes or the foreclosure suit would be continued in order for a sheriff's sale on the delinquent lands. Thursday the taxes were paid.

"We couldn't see why we should have to wait for the money while the people at Huntington try to iron out which trust funds cover the delinquent lands," Prosecutor Shaw told the News Tuesday.

Huntington paid $24,367.65 in back taxes last year but at the end of 1971 still owed $37,948.22. With the publication as of last December the figure rose for a total of $51,473.85 which was paid last week.

Huntington paid a total of $10.91 court costs with their check Thursday as title search, surveys, etc., had already been made.

First Grand Champion East of Mississippi

Grand Champion Trophy for a wool fleece came east of the Mississippi River for the first time this year when John Ryant of Johnny-cake Farms was awarded the large trophy pictured here presented at the California Wool Growers Exhibition at Stockton, Calif.

Ryant exhibited his large silver loving cup measuring 14 inches in diameter and weighing about 13 pounds Thursday evening after receiving it the previous day through the mail.

The Palace Hotel of San Francisco started the Grand Champion trophy in 1926. Since that time, there have been twenty-nine names engraved upon it with Mr. Ryant's the most recent. One sheepman had won the grand champion trophy four different years according to dates following his name.

Ryant explained that competition is in two divisions - sheep men raising 350 head or less and the large ranchers of the west. He owns approximately 100 head of sheep at the present time. The Grand Champion fleece was a Merino C Fleece (smooth). He entered three fleeces in the competition. He also placed first in the Merino Ewe fleece.

In 1969, Ryant took four different trophies with one fleece but "this is the first time for the Grand Champion trophy," he told.

He told that an average fleece weighs about 12 pounds. At the present market, wool is bringing only 10¢ per pound. "Synthetics and modern heating methods are cutting down on the need for wool," he told.

Mr. Ryant will keep the large trophy for a year and then will compete again next year to try to hold it.

As part of the activities for FFA Week the Big Walnut FFA hosted Dave Brahm, President of the Ohio Association FFA, who spoke to the student body at the annual FFA Week Assembly. Dave showed slides and spoke of his trip to Panama. During the course of the assembly, the 1972-73 FFA officer team was introduced to the school and the queen candidates were also introduced.

Calling hours at Hanrahan-Pletcher's will be 7 to 9 this evening, 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 Friday evening. He is survived by his wife, Anna Margaret; one son, William J., one daughter, Kathryn of Columbus; 5 brothers, Frank P. of Berlin Station Road, Thomas and Paul of Cheshire Road, Timothy of Peachblow and Harold of Ford Road; one sister, Mrs. Florence Darenkamp of Cincinnati; nieces and nephews.

Paul Moore, 52, Sunbury Rt. 1, died suddenly Friday night in Morrow County Hospital. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Doris Dunaway of Marengo and Mrs. Mary Alice Tomlinson of Columbus, and nieces and nephews.

Services were held Monday afternoon at DeVore Funeral Home with burial at Green Mount Cemetery at Killbourn.

On Heart Fund Sunday, the Big Walnut FFA canvassed the Berkshire, Harlem, Genoa, and Kingston townships for Heart Fund donations. Eight cars with twenty-two members went house to house from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and collected $388.52. This is done as a community service project. It is believed that this worthy project should receive firm community support.

To a Better Understanding of Our Educational System . . .

Reading Specialists

by Marjorie Whitney

The school systems in the county have reading specialists who have become a vital part of the modern day educational system. Anyone who has attended school can well recall the varying reading abilities of fellow students. Present-day educators have learned that most reading difficulties which interfere with the learning process not only during the school year but also in life itself can be prevented if caught during the early school years.

Mrs. Marianna Chaney is the reading specialist for Sunbury elementary, assisted by Mrs. Mary Smith. In Galena and Harlem schools, Mrs. Pat Cavendish is the reading specialist and her assistants are Mrs. Dale Stein and Mrs. Paul August.

Buckeye Valley District has reading labs in each elementary building and also one in the high school which is purely developmental - a student with reading ability below his age group is instructed individually in an effort to bring him to his group level. Each elementary school has its own lab for grades 1 through 8. Emphasis is placed on helping students of grades 1 and 2. However, upon referral by teachers, pupils at other grade levels are also helped in the lab.

Buckeye conducts a summer reading lab for elementary students. This has been held in past summers. "It depends upon the funds available under Title I, which are able to hold the summer session," Supt. Richard Rannels told. Olentangy District conducts reading labs in grades 1 through 8 only. "There is a limit on that which we can do as we only receive $18,000 a year in federal funds," Leon Lee, curriculum coordinator, told.

"A supplementary reading program is designed to prevent reading problems," Mrs. Chaney explained. "The pupils receive their regular reading instruction in their personal classroom from their teacher and then come to our lab where we give additional instruction. The children of our groups vary from day to day. When a teacher realizes a particular student has a particular problem which she feels needs additional practice, she sends that child with his problem to us and we work with him for a more individualized manner until he has remedied the difficulty."

Standardized tests given at regular intervals aid the instructors in pinpointing troubles arising in students' ability to read and spell. The new Open Court Language Arts program provides time for the children to work on their individual needs. "This is an excellent time for the lab teachers to identify and meet those needs," Mrs. Chaney told.

She gave some examples of specific needs of readers. They may reverse the letters 'b' and 'd'. They may have trouble learning symbol relationships, blending sounds, developing fluency in reading and improving their comprehension," she continued.

When I was observing some of her classes, she was working particularly with a kindergarten group on the letter 's'. "We may have our schedule all made out for a week only to have it upset because one group starts having trouble with one particular sound. We immediately go to that sound to attempt to rectify the problem."

While giving a group of eight first graders dictation, Mrs. Chaney discovered that most of the children failed to write the word "may" correctly. They realized the word started with the "m" sound but were at a loss to know how to write the "ay" sound. Forgetting pre-arranged plans, Mrs. Chaney and Mrs. Smith spent the remainder of the class period working on words ending in "ay".

"In a room with twenty-five children, a regular classroom teacher would have to disregard the need and take care of the majority of the class. The specialist and her helper can give the individual drill needed to correct the problem at the time it arises."

The Sunbury reading lab handles approximately 70 different children each day. These reading labs are federally financed through Title I Reading Program. Applications must be filed yearly for funds in Title I. The federal government provided $24,000 this year for the program in Big Walnut, which goes principally for teachers' and aides' salaries plus supplies.

The room is well equipped with individual reading booths. Head phones permit a student to hear himself read. They permit him to hear other read while he watches the print. There is a tape recorder where a child may record his own reading and play it back providing him the opportunity to evaluate his own reading progress and improve his fluency.

All pupils, kindergarten through grade 2, are handled in the reading lab. They enjoy it and feel they have been privileged to attend.

It is the belief of the educators that by concentrating instruction and guidance to the children in their first three years in school, during which time they are learning to read and write all the sounds of our language, that they will eliminate inability to sound out words, to correlate the sound with symbols to properly spell in the future which will aid them throughout their schooling and life. This is the second year that all reading problems have been confined to the first three years of the child's schooling.

Pupils Learn with Modern Techniques

Reading stalls in the Sunbury Elementary School Reading Lab are used by individual pupils under the supervision of the instructors.

Pictured to the top photo is Mrs. Marianna Chaney, reading specialist, working with a boy who is using headphones whereby he correlates sight and sound of reading symbols. The day the photographer took the picture the class was working especially with the "ay" sound which appears here on the machine in the words "May" and "say". In the lower picture, Mrs. Mary Smith, aide, is watching another pupil as he tapes his reading exercise which aids him in articulation and correct phonetics.

The Garlic Fad

You've probably heard of all sorts of ways to prevent COLDS. You've learned by now to put little faith in highly touted methods in Cold prevention. But this is a ripe field for testing and new ideas appear again and again.

A new fad from California has it that Garlic possesses curative powers against the common cold.

Though scientific evidence has discredited most of the claims, the Garlic craze is on, and is gaining in popularity from coast to coast. Even the most ardent dieters must admit that Garlic - eaten can keep everybody at a distance and the protect themselves from infection.

Keeping Up with New Bethel Activities

By Mr. Carey Glaze

News is scarce as chicken teeth this week; every one is sick or something similar.

We still had a bumper crowd at church Sunday. Over a hundred at Sunday school and I would say at least fifty more came in for church service. Had the sanctuary full, one Sunday school room full, chairs in the back and I don't know how many in the nursery. Not bad for a little "country church".

The Berean SS Class Saturday night and did we have a ball. Some of the highlights I noticed during the evening were Betty Garee's screech when an snake dropped from no where into her lap, Millie Garbrant's fit when a mouse slid down her neck, Henry Long with his mouth that for once he couldn't talk.

Norma Cummings could slide through an elastic hoop like she was greased, but Roland Higgins had trouble getting through the same hoop, his feet were too big. Harold Miller likes fish worms crawling out of his sandwich and Carolyn and Allen Kenney like to smooch when their faces are smeared with marshmallows and charcoal. All in all we had a hilarious evening and was it a noisy place, which only goes to prove that church people have fun too.

Quite a large group went out Sunday afternoon looking at new churches. We couldn't go, so I don't know who all went or what they saw.

New Bethel Young People sponsored a skating party Monday night in Newark. I haven't heard any report yet, but I imagine it was quite well attended.

Have you seen the Christian Union Witness, the church national news paper? The same picture and article of news that appeared in The Sunbury News about Orle Searles and her seventy-five years of church membership made a half page story this week.

We still have plenty of sickness in the neighborhood although most reports are good.

Fern is improved, though she is still quite "wooty".

Ruth Cramer is improving slowly and can have visitors now. She is in Riverside Hospital room 510.

Virginia Miller decided to get sick last week while Harold was in Indiana. She ended up in Howard Warner's hospital with Pete and Christine Webb looking after Craig. The care is excellent but the food is "not so hot."

I just got the word that Rose Ella Grove is in Grant Hospital. Don't know the trouble, but we wish her well.

Beulah Edwards is also in Grant but the word I get is she is due home soon.

Grandma Bibler had her usual house full of company and Emmet participated in council inspection Saturday afternoon and evening Monday night. He attended Horeb Chapter in Westerville.

Catherine and Cliff Davidson took care of Carolyn's and Roland's families Sunday while the parents went on the church tour.

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor

By Marian Whitney

Had a request for more "stitches" and "suds" in this column. We have some suggestions sent to us by readers to which we appreciate and which I think you will enjoy.

Mrs. Martin Krohn gives us a recipe which I know will make you appreciate your present-day laundry day.

Grandmother's "Recipe" for Doing Family Wash:
1. Build fire in back yard to heat kettle of rain water.
2. Set tub so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is pert.
3. Shave one hole cake of soap in billin' water.
4. Sort in three piles-1 pile white, 1 pile colored, 1 pile work briches and rags.
5. Stur flour in cold water to smooth then thin down with billin' water.
6. Rub dirty spots on board, scrub hard, then bile, rub culbord but don't bile-just rench and starch.
7. Take white things out of kettle with broom stick handle, then rench, blue and starch.
8. Sprud tee towels on grass.
9. Hang old rag on fence.
10. Pore rench water in flower bed.
11. Scrub porch with hot soapy water.
12. Turn tub upside down.
13. Go put on clean dress--smooth hair with side comb--brew cup of tee--set and rest a spell and count your blessin's.

(Hang this up above your automatic electric washer and dryer and when things look bleak, read it again!)

For Sewing Vinyl!
Another reader shares her hint for sewing vinyl. She tells she tried last week when mending a tear in a pair of vinyl boots. She suggests when sewing vinyl that you spread vaseline, sewing machine oil or cooking oil along the seam line ahead of the stitching as it moves through the machine. Spread it out in a thin film with your finger as you sew. This is applied only on the side coated with vinyl as it moves under the pressure foot. Thanks loads to both of you. I know the one item will cause many laughs and the other should come in very handy when the need arises. Let's have more of you readers' ideas. We like them and like to share them with others.

Cooking for Heart Health
Did you happen to read the article recently in the Dispatch concerning special cooking by Mrs. Schenkel for her husband, Chris, who is vitally interested in heart health? I tried her suggestion for broccoli and found it very appetizing.

Seasoned Broccoli
1 lb. fresh broccoli or 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen broccoli
1 T. vegetable oil
1/4 t. dry mustard
Salt & pepper as desired
3 T. water
1/4 t. dill seed
If using fresh broccoli, trim and wash but do not dry. Measure oil into saucepan or skillet with a tight-fitting cover. Add broccoli, seasoning and water. Cover and cook over medium to low heat about 15 minutes or until tender. Shake covered pan several times to prevent sticking.

And Then a Simple Chicken Dish
I tell John with the increasing cost of meats, chicken is becoming a 47 variety food in our house. To keep him from becoming tired of it so many times, I naturally look for new recipes so that I can vary the fare. This one came from one of my recently-acquired cookbooks. So easy and really tasty.

Chicken Parmesan
5 chicken breasts, split
2 cans cream of celery soup
3-oz. can Parmesan cheese
Wash and dry chicken and place in pan skin side up. Blend soup and cheese and spread over top. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for two hours.

A doctor who operates on himself has a fool for a patient.

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block, The Income Tax People, come in. H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging"? to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. Conant's 24 Points Lead Big Walnut To Hard-Earned Win Over Wildcats

Seek District Berth Against Elgin Friday

Big Walnut shook off the effects of their worst slipping of the year during the first half at the Marion Coliseum Friday night to come back and with their opening sectional tournament game as they strolled North Union 51-45.

The win puts the Eagles into the upper bracket championship game Friday night at 8:00 against Elgin, 70-61 winners over River Valley in Friday's second game. The Comets hold a 13-6 record while Big Walnut is now 18-0 for the year.

Wildcats Lead Cold Eagles
Big Walnut led the Wildcats only three times in the first period, as cold shooting from the floor and an effective North Union zone defense seemingly stopped them.

The Eagles, averaging over 51% of their shots for the year, could do no better than 4 of 14 in the first period and 3 of 21 in the second as North Union dropped in 11 of 27 for the half. The score was tied at 2-2, 4-4, and 6-6 before BW took the lead for the first time at 7-6 when Wayman Lawrence hit a free throw with 4:10 on the clock.

After the Wildcats went back a head, Scott Conant put BW back on top at 11-10 with a pair of free throws and the quarter ended with the score tied at 12-12.

Conant hit a rebound opening the second period and then the Wildcats outscored BW 9-2 to take a 21-16 lead. The half ended with NU on top 24-21.

Conant, Lawrence Lead Comeback
Conant's 6-ft. turn-around jumper started off the Eagles in the second half and after a NU free throw, Lawrence hit a 21-footer, his first field goal of the game, to tie the score at 25-25. Twenty-one seconds later, Conant tapped in a rebound for a 27-25 lead and BW never trailed again.

Conant followed with two straight rebound shots; NU hit a free throw, and Lawrence tipped in a rebound to put BW on top 31-26. After another NU free throw, Dan Saver and Gary Condit hit free throws and Conant laid one up for two points, stretching the lead to 35-27.

The Wildcats stayed in the game by hitting three straight charity tosses and with 1:33 on the clock they finally hit their first goal of the quarter as Dan Krebehenne hit a layup rebound. He followed with a charity toss with 10 seconds on the clock, ending the quarter with BW out from 35-33.

Conant again opened the quarter scoring as he hit from the foul line; Gary Condit followed with a 22-footer from the corner and Lawrence hit a 15-footer, although North Union could connect, making the score 40-35.

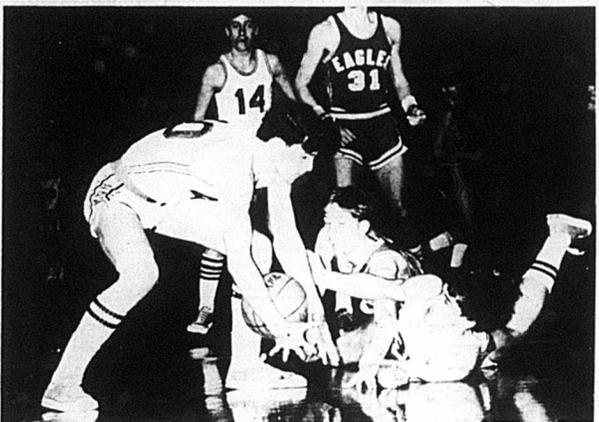

The Eagles outscored NU 10-2 during the next five and a half minutes, stretching their lead to 13 points at 50-37 with 3:48 remaining. BW then put the ball into a semi-freeze and the quarter ended with the gap to five points. Mike Fry's free throw with 13 seconds to go completed the scoring, giving the Eagles their 51-45 win.

OER Lowest of Year
Big Walnut finished the game rating an 85 OER, their lowest for the year, while North Union closed with 71. The best quarter for the Eagles was the fourth when they posted a 1.03.

The Wildcats, closing out their season with a 7-13 record, hit on 17 of 48 shots for the game for 35.4% and were 11 of 17 at the line for 64.7%. The Eagles, who also had 17 field goals (out of 34 attempts for 31.5%), piled up their winning margin by dropping 17 of 27 at the charity stripe for 62.9%. 21 possessions were called on the Wildcats while 13 were assessed BW. BW had 12 turnovers, losing 13 points while NU had 18, losing 11. Of the glass, BW held the edge 38-25 with Conant the leader with 11 and Saver getting 10. Conant led all scorers, finishing with 24, including 4 of 6 at the line, while Lawrence was the only other Eagle to hit double figures, dropping in 11, including 5 of 6 at the stripe. Krebehenne had 13 and Jim Cramer 15 to pace North Union.

Big Walnut 12 21 35 51
North Union 12 24 33 45
Big Walnut (51): Saver 3-3-9, Conant 10-4-24, Moodepaugh 0-0-0, Lawrence 3-5-11, Condit 1-3-5, Fry 0-2-2. Totals 17-17-51, North Union (45): Cramer 5-8-15, Manville 3-0-6, Krebehenne 5-3-13, McElroy 3-2-8, Oman 1-0-2, Evans 0-1-1. Totals 17-11-45.

In 1964, a man caught speeding in Newport, Rhode Island received a 5-day jail sentence.

To discourage "one-person-one-car" commuting, a Boston insurance company offers free parking to any employee who drives at least two others to work.

Many states classify minibikes as motorcycles, which means that when used on public highways, they must be registered, and drivers properly licensed.

A no-no for night drivers: sun glasses. They may cut the oncoming glare, but they also diminish already limited visibility.

If properly inflated tires squeal on turns, wheel misalignment is the most likely cause.

Precision wheel alignment is just one of the many important features of our cars at GM Auto Sales, Morning & Granville Sts., Sunbury, Ph. 965-3500.

L-K BLUE RIBBON STRIP STEAK

The old timers will remember this steak as the "Butcher's Steak". In past years when they butchered on the arm — or when small proprietor butcher shops were still in vogue, the one piece of meat that was always savored for its tenderness, flavor, and delicacy is the very same steak which we call our Blue Ribbon Strip. This is the steak that graced the butcher's or the farmer's table following the butchering. It very rarely reached the market, therefore it became known as the butchers' steak and did not become as well known to the general public. This steak is found in the front quarter of the beef inside the rib cage and therefore very easy to cut out of the beef without affecting any other part of the carcass. It grows lengthwise and only about one inch thick, therefore it is necessary to cut it with the grain. This is the main difference between the more familiar steak cuts and our Blue Ribbon Strip; but it comes closest to the Tenderloin in its overall tenderness and flavor. We hope you like it.

Concerned County Citizens Start Volunteer Probation Services

Delaware County Concerned Citizens for Juvenile Delinquents met Thursday evening when Mrs. Linda Cloud of the Juvenile Probation Council of Columbus told the group how volunteer probation officers work in Franklin county.

The Concerned Citizens for Juvenile Delinquents are organizing a volunteer probation service in the county. Father John Stummiller of St. Mary's Church and John L. Brown of Delaware, student at the Methodist Seminary, are co-chairing the effort.

Kenneth Kunkle has been appointed attorney for the group. They are now seeking volunteers to set up the training of probation personnel as well as volunteers to work on the governing body.

Franklin county has used volunteer probation officers for the past five months. Mrs. Cloud is the only paid person and organizes the office in the courthouse and is used as a clearing house for the county.

It is the belief of the Concerned Citizens that most juvenile delinquency is only school truancy. They feel that more frequent and more personal contact with those truant would prevent greater delinquency and in the end save not only the youth involved but also the county by eliminating delinquency later.

Mrs. Cloud told that according to statistics one out of every six boys appears in Juvenile Court. Girls' figures aren't so high. Of the boys, approximately 75% become returnees. She told that in Franklin county, the return figure for 1968 was 35%, while the following year it rose to 51%. The board of institutions do not prevent, they simply educate more hardened criminals. The object is to prevent delinquency through a one-to-one personal relationship," she told.

Eugene Ross of the Delaware County Juvenile Court told that there were 476 cases which went through the juvenile court last year. There were 87 probationers handled during the year and 20 more cases had been added since Jan. 1. There are now two probation officers in the county to handle the load.

Under the proposed setup, the probation officers would continue the work with the more hard-core cases. However, it is hoped by the Concerned Citizens that the school trustees cases could be handled by local volunteers who are actively interested in helping the youth.

Anyone interested in volunteering in any way to work with the project should contact Mrs. John L. Brown, 400 N. Liberty St., Delaware, whose phone number is 362-7813.

'Presidents' Day' Searchlight Theme

Members of the Searchlight Club held their annual dinner meeting at the Sunbury United Methodist Church Monday evening with forty-two members and guests present.

Since the event was held on Feb. 21, "Presidents' Day" the table decorations of red, white and blue provided the theme for the evening. They were furnished by Mrs. Bernard Schaefer, Mrs. Wayne Repert, and Mrs. Edward Saver.

Dr. Curtis Tong, basketball coach at Oterbein College, spoke to the group about his travel and coaching experience. He has coached conducted basketball clinics in Ecuador and the Philippines. He was with the Peace Corps in Ecuador for three years.

Working with young people through the Olentangy Athletic Boosters of Christian Athletes Dr. Tong says he is proud to be a coach and work informally with the youth; the young people today still need guidelines and ask for them.

Olentangy FFA Gives Mothers Gifts

In appreciation of their mothers helping to prepare and serve the FFA, FFA and 4-H Advisors Banquet, the Olentangy FFA and FFA chapters presented each of the mothers with a gift, a potted plant.

such as journalism and several semester home-ec subjects.

E. D. Bellville and board member Robert Curmude reported on the recent convention held in Atlantic City for members of the administrators. They described briefly the many exhibits showing new materials available and reported the "innovative era" in teaching is ended. Mr. Bellville stressed, "Quality teachers are the key to education. It doesn't matter about all the materials they have to teach with but how good the teacher is."

The Board went on record to congratulate the wrestling team for its winning record in this year's Metro League Competition.

OLENTANGY BOARD

explained to the Board the decision of the Music Parents to support the bands' attendance at a week of summer camp stressing the fact that the parents and the Music Parent Association would be handling the economic financial burden except for the band directors' time to be there. They will attend the Proctor Center near London in August. The board granted approval by stating that it was an administrative decision. Mr. Bellville assured them that it had been approved.

Approval of the 1972-73 school calendar was adopted as recommended by a committee of teachers, administrators and non-certificated personnel. June 3, 1973 was established for next years graduation with school starting Sept. 5 for the teachers and a full day for the students Sept. 6. Christmas vacation will be from Dec. 23 thru Jan. 1, 1973.

Supr. Robert Schultz of Delaware City Schools spoke to the board briefly about joining other schools in the county in the Central Ohio Educational Research Council program. If Olentangy joins, at an approximate cost of three hundred dollars for the year, Delaware would be the first to have county wide participation. This program involves member schools in research and in-service training for both teachers and administrators.

Middle School principal reported on the advisability of including the sixth grade students in the shorter day for next school year. While he stated that it could be done, he did not advise it as they then would barely be able to meet state standards. The board then left as originally presented to include the sixth grade in the long day with the high school from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., the schedule for 1972-73.

Blaine Martin, high school principal, presented the new curriculum guide for Olentangy High School, and stated that the upper classroom were already beginning to make out their schedules for next year. Several new courses have been added such as journalism and several semester home-ec subjects.

Save Some Antiques, Lose Many More

Firemen drag an old pot-belly stove out of the burning building, top photo, while Mrs. Lacey checks some of the other antiques saved from the inferno. Firemen and passersby were able to get many of the antiques out of the building before floors became too weak to walk on. By 3 a.m., when fuel oil in the basement caught fire, Chief Hummel called his men back and let the rest of the blaze burn itself down. Lacey told the News some of the antiques had been in his family for over two hundred years.

one out." That blaze caused about $400 worth of damage.

"Luckily, the floor had double joists in it," Hummel added, "or we might have lost a lot more down there." Well around the fire-place caught fire at Mayenschine's and the top joist in the floor caught fire but the second didn't, which, according to Hummel, would have allowed the blaze to travel the length of the house in a crawlspace.

Galena Market Break-in Suspects Arraigned, Free Under $2500 Bond

Three youths charged with breaking and entering at Galena Market last week plead "not guilty" to the charge Monday in Municipal Court and were released under $2,500 bond each.

Asa Craig Carter, 19, Michael Eugene Koch, 19, and Rickey G. Roberts, 18, all of Hilliard, entered their pleas before Judge Nino Sterella at their arraignments. Judge Sterella set next Tuesday as the date for their preliminary hearing.

Carter was apprehended last Tuesday night walking along S. Old 3C Highway just outside of Galena shortly after Postmaster George Hogg had notified the Sheriff's Department of suspicious persons cruising around Galena. Upon investigation, Deputies Phil Longshore and Robert Mitchell discovered the break-in at the market and started a manhunt in the area. Koch and Roberts were picked up at their homes in Hilliard early Wednesday morning after deputies obtained warrants for their arrest. Bill Allerton, owner of the market, said that the thieves apparently stole 20 cartons of cigarettes, five cases of beer, and around $50 in cash, all of which has not been recovered.

$50,000 Accident Jury Trial Starts Monday

Jury trial starts Monday in a damage suit in which the plaintiffs ask a total of $50,000 as a result of an accident on US 23 in September 1967.

Suit is that of Myria M. and Ralph Hawk, 3116 Troy Rd., Delaware, vs Delmar M. Herdman, Columbus. Hawks claim the $50,000 worth in damages after the car which she was driving was struck in the rear while she was stopped for a school bus.

Mrs. Hawk claims damages from injuries she received while her husband claims damages for vehicle repairs, etc. The accident happened about 1 1/2 miles north of Delaware when Mrs. Hawk stopped her car behind a car stopped behind a school bus letting out kids. Herdman allegedly could not stop his vehicle in time and struck the Hawk car in the rear end.

Trial for the case is scheduled to last Monday and Tuesday.

OLIVE GREEN SOCIAL EVENTS

By Mrs. Opal Easthom

Tommy Tours Tunisia
Thomas J. Harris, III, who has been aboard the Navy destroyer ship the O'Hara wrote his folks, the Thomas Harrises, about an exciting trip he had in Africa when he got to ride the camel. He said he fell off twice but the only thing hurt was his pride but when he looked around and saw all his buddies tumbling off into the dust he wasn't quite so disconcerted with the whole bit. Africa has been one of the places that Tommy has always wanted to see so now he is realizing one of his fondest dreams. He was to have 4 days off there. Looks like this sailor lad will have a lot of adventures to relate to mom and dad and sis, Joyce, when he gets back to dear old Delaware county.

Church Notes
Not a very large crowd out for the services at the Olive Green Church of Christ in Christian Union Sunday morning but never the less it was an exceptionally good service with the youth group in charge of both sermons. Karen and Michelle, little daughters of the Zane Potts, sure were real great in a duet, Karen Hamilton played the piano and sang a song she had composed, a trio which included Cindy Fry, Bryan and Elaine Sager sang quite effectively during last part of the service.

Rev. Richard Fry attended an all-day seminar Saturday, Feb. 26, at the Kentucky Ave. Church of Christ in Mansfield, sponsored by the North Central District Sunday School Board.

Grange Meets
Not many out to Grange meeting Wednesday evening but we had a good time nevertheless. Mrs. Christine Jones as Lecturer had a quiz test on the life of Washington. Some of us were surprised at how much we had forgotten or never knew about him.

Mrs. Lucille Harding had baked a lovely birthday cake and decorated it with gumdrops out in ribbons and then she shaped them. I was quite intrigued by this method of cake decorating as I had never seen it done before. But I guess we learn something new every day. Assorted sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. Next regular meeting date will be Mar. 8. All members are urged to attend.

Resident Dies
Ora Mash died Wednesday morning enroute to Jane Case Hospital after an extended illness. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Other News from Olive Green
Mrs. Karl Keene and Mrs. Gerald Shuter attended a meeting of the 8 & 10 Club Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Minthorn of Columbus. Fifteen were present for the meeting at which time they held a belated Valentine gift exchange. Mrs. Keene told that she received a pretty blue glass compote dish as a gift.

Mrs. Fannie Conklin was admitted to Riverside Hospital Friday. Sorry to hear this and hope for her quick recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris entertained her nephew, Charles E. Coffee, and his fiancée from Columbus, to dinner Sunday. Joyce Harris was hostess for the weekend.

With temperatures moving up for at least two days this week, Harlem Elementary School youngsters fill their bird feeder and keep on the lookout for a robin in the school yard.
