

29 Children Attending Condit Church's First Nursery School.....

The Condit United Presbyterian Church started the Nursery School as a service to the community and the church furnishes free the use of the building, the utilities and the playground equipment which the Youth Fellowship of the church recently purchased.

Mrs. Ted Gray is the director of the school and Mrs. Wendell Davidson is her assistant. Both of them are hired on salaries. The children are charged $12.00 per month to attend the school and this money goes toward the salaries of the instructors and the purchase of needed equipment and supplies. Mrs. Gray has a report of progress which is sent to the parents of the children twice a year. She appraises the progress of the child in three areas: personal and social growth, in skill and work habits, and in physical growth.

Director Lists School Goals When the News reporter asked her just what her goals were she listed the following in personal and social growth: learn to cooperate with others in work and play; learn to take turns and share with others; learn to respect property and rights of others; learn to take part in group work and conversation; learn to be attentive while others are talking; try to help the child develop his self confidence and also his self control; learn to observe safety rules.

In the field of growth in skill and work habits she hopes to create interest in books and stories, in nature and science, and enjoyment of music, to develop creative ability in art materials, to learn to complete those things which he starts. The child is given help in speech, in following directions, learning numbers, shapes and colors. He is taught to recognize his name in manuscript and can tell his first and last names, age and address.

In the physical area, Mrs. Gray is emphasizing good health habits, active play and work, relaxation during rest periods and rhythm through games.

Here is Day's Program The typical days program follows: Opening with Pledge to Flag followed by a discussion of the calendar and weather, later the time. Then comes the shar-

Cooler Weather Forecast To Bring More Frost

Colder weather is forecast for tonight and Friday to stop the rain that has dampened the Delaware County Fair the first of this week.

Cool weather blew in Thursday and light frost was reported in many areas Friday morning with a low of 40 recorded here and some rural areas had 36.

It warmed up Saturday and Sunday and was 58 above Monday with rain starting at 10:15. Two-tenths of an inch of rain fell Monday, 1.2 inches Tuesday morning and a half inch Wednesday, according to the gauge of Mrs. Lee Bell.

Farmers report that corn and soybeans look the best in years. If weather gives them a break they expect the best crop in both of these grains for some time.

Former Resident Dies While Visiting Son Here

Clark Utery, 82, died at the home of his son, Walter, in Sunbury yesterday morning where he had been visiting since Friday.

He had been in ill health for some time. Mr. Utery was a native of Porter township and worked on the county highway department for several years until retiring. Since then he spent the summers with his daughter, Mrs. Eve Wallace in Grove City, and the winters in Clearwater, Fla.

Funeral will be held in the Bennett-Brown Funeral Home in Delaware Friday afternoon at 2:00 and burial will be made in Sunbury Cemetery.

Besides Walter and Eve he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Edith Williams of Laramie, Wyo.; sons, Leo of Pataskala and Charles of Delaware; 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

FFA Has Weekly Radio Program Big Walnut FFA Chapter has a weekly radio show over WDLR each Saturday morning from 9:30 to 10:00 a. m. We would like the community to tune us in.

VANDALS DAMAGE OTTERBEIN HOUSE

Vandals did considerable damage at the Otterbein College farm on Tussock Road last week, according to Sheriff Eugene Jackson.

The vandals gained entrance to the farm by climbing a fence. They smeared 15 gallons of paint stored in a house on the walls and on a house trailer in the yard belonging to the president of Otterbein College. Two headlights were broken from a power mower and paint was smeared on it.

A quarter inch drill was the only thing stolen from the house, the sheriff reports.

MARENGO VISITOR IS AUTO CRASH VICTIM

A Fairland, Okla. youth who had been staying with relatives at Marengo since last month was killed in a one car accident at 10:40 p. m. Saturday night, 3 miles south of Mt. Gilead on Rt. 61.

The Mansfield Post of the State Highway Patrol reported the car driven by Rex Eugene Tipton, 18, was southbound, failed to round a right hand curve, went off the left side of the road, struck a tree stump and telephone pole. The body was removed by Graven Funeral Home, Mt. Gilead. He was alone in the car. He had been staying with the Jim Sutton family of near Marengo, whose car he was driving and was to have returned to Oklahoma this coming weekend to be married.

Survivors include his parents, John and Loretta Tipton and sister, Glenda. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Cooper Funeral Home, Miami, Okla.

October Draft Calls 28 Men

Delaware county will send 28 men Oct. 25 into the service, according to Miss Maureen Beck, clerk of the county Selective Service Board, and 23 will be sent for physicals that day. This call is expected to include married men.

12 Pacers to Race In Little Brown Jug

AUTO THRILL SHOW TO BE STAGED TONIGHT: JUNIOR STEER CLUB TO SELL 71 STEERS

Rain dampened the Delaware County Fair Monday and Tuesday but clear skies yesterday let the Grand Circuit Races run fourteen heats to set the stage for the Little Brown Jug pacing classic this afternoon with a field of twelve starters.

More than ten thousand attended the fair on opening day Sunday. Rain Monday failed to stop the racing but they were called off Tuesday and the overnight races were cancelled but the Breeders Filly Stake races for two-year-old trotters and pacers were added to the Wednesday program.

Johnny King's Auto Thrill Show will be featured in front of the grandstand this evening.

The Junior Fair pig and lamb sale Tuesday night brought high prices with the top animals selling for 38c.

Big Walnut High School band will play for the Jug. This is the first time that Big Walnut directed by Jack Rolfes has played for the Jug. The band will appear in their new uniforms.

Romeo Hanover, the season's fastest pacing colt, drew No. 6 position in the drawing Tuesday but remained the choice to win the jug with 11 of the world's fastest three-year-old pacers for the $74,000 jug prize.

In the Jug drawing Tuesday Niagara Byrd won the pole. Bonjour Hanover, the only filly in the race drew second. Clay was third and Big Bear fourth. The others in the race in the positions they drew are Romeo Hanover, Mr. Lucifer, Overall, Meadow Lence, Silent Bird, Good Time Boy and Bank Time.

Post time Jug day is 1:00 and other races on the program are Ohio Standardbred two-year-old pace and Ohio Cold Sweepstakes three-year-old trot and pace. Races Monday were run in the aud. Jim Edwards of Sunbury placed third with his colt and Arlo Edwards won his dash. Bus Edwards had a horse entered in Tuesday's overnight races but the race was cancelled. His daughter, Marilyn, is working in the office for Hank Thomson, secretary of the races.

Many from this part of the county are exhibiting at the fair. The Big Walnut FFA, FFA, several 4-H Clubs, granges and other groups are exhibiting.

Harold Kintner, Tom Brenner and Henry Wilson, Jr. are on the calf club sale committee. Merlin Sheets, Wayne Sanders and Duane VanSickle were on the lamb and pig committee.

The Junior Fair clothing and nutrition revue will be held Friday afternoon in the final event of the fair.

NUMBER 38

Peachblow Camp Wiring Stolen About 2000 feet of copper service wire was cut from buildings and stolen at Peachblow Camp on County Road 10 west of Cheshire some time between Sept. 15 and 18. Dr. Arthur G. James, 1911 Walham Road, Columbus, owner of the camp, reported the theft to Sheriff Eugene Jackson. The electric service wire was clipped from several buildings and was 6, 8 and 10 gauge. He told that the entrance to the camp was locked and that Mr. Willis Vaughn of near there was at the camp Thursday and that the wire was on the buildings.

FFA to Sponsor Air Tour Big Walnut FFA Chapter has scheduled an air tour on Sunday, Sept. 25, beginning at 1:00 p. m. The flights will occur from the Delaware County Airport. The tour which was scheduled in August, but was rained out will again be open to the public. The rates are very reasonable and if anyone in the community is interested in please contact an FFA member or call the high school vocational agriculture instructor.

BUCKEYE VALLEY BAND PLANS CONCERT

Buckeye Valley marching band will present a concert Sunday afternoon, Sept. 25, of the music they prepared and played for their Atlantic City trip.

The program will start at 2:00 in the high school gymnasium. The band will feature music played in the Miss America parade and other concerts while they were in Atlantic City. An added attraction to this concert will be the appearance of Miss Ohio, Sharon Phillipian, who will participate in the concert.

The concert is planned for two purposes, to let the local people hear the music prepared especially for Atlantic City and to raise additional funds to help pay for the band's trip to the Miss America Contest. Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for children.

Rain Delays Science Review

Rain caused postponing the Farm Science Review on Don Scott Field until this morning. The review will be held today starting at 7:00 a. m. and Friday. It was delayed last year because of rain.

FFA Sponsors School Car Safety Check

Sixty-four cars were inspected and sixty-two students at Big Walnut High School entered a skilled drivers contest sponsored at the high school.

The car safety check held this year was an addition to the drivers test that was held last year. This year the chapter had a highway patrolman assist in the car inspection check. The items checked were: tires, fuel, brakes, head lights, turning signals, horn, brake lights, plus others. All cars that will be allowed to drive to school this year must have a safety check. Forty-five students and nineteen faculty cars went through and fifteen failed to pass the inspection.

After the cars were inspected the youths then were required to participate in the skilled drivers contest. Each student was required to take a ten question written exam on questions concerning driving laws and then participated in a brake reaction test. Each student then was allowed to use his own or borrow one in order to complete the actual drivers exam. Each student was required to parallel park, drive a straight line, back on a straight line and finally inside a circle of paper cups.

A trophy will be presented to the winners of the drivers competition. The top five winners were: Larry Runk, first; Tim Chandler, second; Dave Elfrink, third; Dan Jacobus, fourth; and Russ Bell fifth.

Open League Play at Cardington Friday

Wildcats Chew Up Big Walnut Eagles 50-6

With the first string playing all the way, Westerville Friday night humiliated the young Big Walnut Eagles 50-6 before a large turnout at Westerville. Wildcat coach Chuck Burner saw his junior fullback Trevor Newland score his sixth touchdown of the night with but 1:10 remaining to complete one of the worst drubbings in Big Walnut history.

Big Walnut scored their only touchdown in the fourth period, when Harvey Stover fired a long pass from the Eagles 40-yd. line to Jim Beaver who gathered it in on the 25-yd. line of Westerville and carried it in for a TD. Don Kelley's run for the extra points was no good.

The touchdown came just three plays after Big Walnut had penetrated Westerville territory for the first time, driving to their 49-yd. line. Jack Groselock fired the next play, a Stover pass fell incomplete, and then he fired one of the three completed passes Big Walnut enjoyed the entire game for the TD.

The score wasn't the only lopsided feature of the game. Westerville out-gained the Eagles 308 to 30 yards net gain on the ground, 73-70 in the air and had 13 first downs to only three for Big Walnut. The passing game was the only phase of the game close with Westerville completing 3 of 8 with one intercepted and Big Walnut 3 of 9, also with one interception. Big Walnut fumbled the ball twice and lost one, while the Wildcats fumbled once, retaining possession.

Eagles Fumble On First Play

Big Walnut held Westerville after they received the kickoff, gaining only three yards in three plays, and they punted the ball which Big Walnut elected to roll dead on their 9-yd. line. On the first play from scrimmage, the Eagles lost the Westerville recovered on the 7-yd. line, and on fourth down Newland carried it for the TD. Greg Koski's pass to Larry Beatty was good and Westerville led 6-0 with 7:38 showing on the clock.

Jack Groselock returned the kickoff 18 yards to the 30-yd. line after the TD, but a rash of penalties pushed the Eagles back to their 12-yd. line. BW punted with Westerville returning to the 29-yd. line and from there in seven plays they scored with Newland going the final three yds. Koski passed to Frank Hake for the extra points with 1:35 remaining in the first period.

Westerville once more drove deep into Big Walnut territory shortly after the second period started, but the drive bogged down on the 14-yd. line and Big Walnut took over. Later a Beaver pass interception stopped another drive, but with 2:11 on the clock they again took over the ball and in ten plays Newland scored with .05 seconds on the clock and also kicked the extra point. Westerville led at half-time 23-0.

Newland came back to score again on Westerville's second running play of the second half, this one a run of 48 yards through the Big Walnut middle, giving them a 29-0 lead with 8:36 remaining. He scored his fifth touchdown with 39 seconds showing in the third period as he went 12-yds. for a TD, making the score 35-0.

Jim Campbell scored from 4-yds. out early in the fourth period, Newland kicked the extra point, and the Wildcats led 42-0 before Big Walnut scored their TD. Newland then came back to score his sixth TD with 1:10 remaining and Jerry Elliott passed to Mark Ritchie for the extra points to wrap up the scoring.

The News Editor Speaks....

Do we really want Columbus phone service in Sunbury? How many of our private homes make more than 10 calls into Columbus every month? It is told to be those who passed the petitions that the monthly charge for private lines into homes would be approximately $3.50. Without a doubt there are many, especially those who have moved out of Columbus, who would like free service to talk with their friends and relatives, but what about those many persons in the area who seldom make a call to Columbus. They will still have to pay that monthly charge if in this exchange which will amount to $36.00 more a year. Many may never make a Columbus call. Many are on fixed incomes and are now having a difficult time making their income stretch over the necessities.

It is also reported that business and professional houses will be charged approximately $17.00 a month for the service. While some businesses use Columbus service very often, others never use it. Is it fair to ask the business people to pay $200 more a year to provide free service for those who will use it? There are already some businesses here which, through Galena, have Columbus service. We believe that others who really need it can make arrangements in that same way and not impose upon those who don't want the service.

Young Farmers Attend State-Wide Camp

Eight members of the Big Walnut Young Farmer Organization attended the Ohio State Young Farmers Camp at Camp Mankin, on Leesville Lake, near Carrollton.

The camp was held Sept. 9-11 and was termed a great success. Over 200 young farmers and their wives attended the camp which was designed to provide recreation and educational benefits. Members attending from the Big Walnut group were Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Longshore, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sanders all of Sunbury.

A team composed of Kenny Longshore, Paul Miller and W. L. Sanders won the first place trophy in the Young Farmer trap shooting contest. Fourteen teams participated in the contest.

Electric, Gas Companies To Hold Workshop

More than 200 architects, engineers and building contractors from throughout Ohio are expected to attend a one-day "Energy Option Workshop" jointly sponsored by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc. and the East Ohio Gas Co. at the Columbus-Sheraton Hotel, Columbus, Wednesday, Sept. 28.

R. C. Heid, Westerville manager for Columbia of Ohio, said the workshop will offer an analysis of new energy systems for office buildings, hotels, schools and other major structures.

"Architects, contractors, engineers and other interested persons in the Sunbury-Galena area are invited to attend the meeting as guests of the gas company," Mr. Heid says. "Information on the workshop may be obtained and advance registration may be made by contacting your gas company office by Sept. 23."

The workshop will be under the direction of C. George Segler, director of technical services for David Sage, Inc., of New York City. Sage, Inc. is the firm that has collected and analyzed the new concept and technical information being presented at the workshop.

He will be assisted by nationally-known New York architect Leslie Larson, author of "Lighting and Its Design" and numerous other articles on the subject of lighting.

Mothers' Club Elects Officers

Carriage to Marriage CCL met last Monday evening at Miller's Village Inn.

Installation of officers preceded the dinner. Officers were presented with a corsage and those installed were Mrs. Larry Welch, president; Mrs. Gerald Brownfield, vice president; Mrs. Dean Gailgoly, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Murphy, historian; and Mrs. Rodney Williams, telephone girl.

Mrs. Edward Cooley installed the new officers and was presented a past-president's pin. A regular business session followed.

Mrs. Rodney Keeler was taken in as a new member. New program books were distributed and plans for the new year were discussed. Seven members and two prospective members were present.

Schoolland School Reunion

Schoolland School District No. 4 will hold its reunion Sunday, Sept. 25 at Hoot an' Hollow, 1 1/2 miles east of Croton. Those attending are asked to take a basket dinner and take own table service.

ing hour with free participation. There are songs with finger play followed by the free play period where the News photographer found the children Thursday morning. Following the free play comes the art period where they learn shapes, colors and express themselves through creative work. Recess takes them to the outdoors for active play. When they come in they have their snacks which are purchased from their fees. After eating they have a rest period where they learn to relax while listening to music. They all collect after that on the large rug around Mrs. Gray's chair while she tells or reads their stories. The last thing on the morning schedule is circle games.

Children Attending School

Those attending the school are David Conley, Rebecca Maroney, Kevin Potts, Dale Petry, Randall Rice and Joan Strider, all of Galena, Sally Stith, Jodi Westerman, Mary Jo Forman, Jennifer Godshall, Anthony Rump, Mike Link, Dale Layton, Scott Girberd, John Lleurance, Carrie Abolines and Kathy Mitchell of Sunbury, Kathy Davidson, Gwen Wheeler, Linda Hall, Donald Zigler, Candice Feasel, Cindy Gray and Gregory Salyers of Sunbury, R. L. Laura Leitner, Becky Hildreth, Shellie Edwards, Jeffery Miller and Mike Johnson of Sunbury R. 2.

The Guidance committee is chaired by Mrs. Bernard Seales, with Mrs. W. J. Westerman, secretary, Mrs. Rodney Keeler, treasurer and other members being Mrs. Gary Girberd, Mrs. Gray and Rev. James Dowd.

Braves Lead Mid-Ohio

Defense Gives Olentangy 22-14 Win Over Highland

An outstanding defensive effort by the Olentangy Braves, which set up two touchdowns with blocked kicks and held Highland deep in scoring territory late in the fourth period, gave the Braves the lead in the Mid-Ohio Friday night as they won 22-14.

Olentangy scored a touchdown and safety in the first period; two touchdowns and a pair of extra points in the second and then hung on for dear-life as the come-back Scotties nearly pulled the game out of the fire in the second half.

The Scotties scored a touchdown in the third period; another in the fourth period, plus the extra points and a drive which went to the Olentangy 25-yd. line late in the fourth period was stopped by the strong Brave defensive line.

Blocked Punt Scores Green

Willard Brown blocked two punts for the Braves and his first one, in the opening period, went straight up and was grabbed by Olentangy teammate, center Paul Green, who ran the 29-yds. to the goal line.

Late in the same period, tackle Carl Bair dumped Scottie quarterback Bill Irvine in his own end zone attempting to pass and the Braves led 8-0 as they changed ends of the field.

The free kick after the safety only went to the Highland 27-yd. line and the Braves moved from there to pay dirt in only four plays with quarterback Mike Halley passing to kick Kennedy for the final 20 yards.

Fullback Navy Aquila ran for the extra points to make it 16-0.

The Braves wrapped up their scoring late in the second period to take a 22-0 halftime lead as Aquila scored from 1-yd. out to climax a 17-yd. drive set up by Brown's blocked punt of the evening.

Davidson, Plogher Lead

The Scotties roared back with a vengeance in the second half, gaining 124 yards while holding the Braves to 13 rushing yards.

Fullback Don Davidson scored the first of their comeback touchdowns mid-way through the third period as the climax of a 30-yd. drive when he banged into the end one from twelve yards out.

In the fourth period the Scotties scored again from 6-yds. out on a run by halfback Wray Plogher. The drive took five plays to reach paydirt and was featured by a 57-yd. run by Davidson. Davidson scored the extra points to bring the Scotties up to 22-14 and ended their scoring.

Mid-Ohio League Teams

now show an impressive 9-1 record against non-league opponents, topped by Marion Catholic's two wins over formidable teams. They came back from a 13-0 deficit Friday night to defeat Bucyrus 24-13.

Lee Coomer scored three touchdowns and picked up 136 yards at Cardington "thumped Hamilton 48-0 Friday. He now has five TD's in two games.

When Utica beat Granville in their opener a week ago Friday 14-6, it was their first victory over them in eight years.

Oberlin's Cardinals had 40 additional lights illuminating the field Saturday night as they beat Indiana Central in their opener.

Oberlin's athletic booster club, the "O" Club purchased the lights, making their total investment in lights for the field now $11,500.

Olentangy reporter Steve Blikem tells me that Dale Brown, injured in the Braves opening game, will take off his cast this week and is expected back in the starting lineup soon.

Women athletes continue to make the news — Mrs. Virginia Gregg of Sunbury won the women's championship at Bridgeview Golf Course in Columbus for the second straight year. Virginia shot an 82 to win this year's championship.

Jean Barcus Kliek, who recently set an all-time women's record for Westerville Lanes, was at it again Thursday night when she bowled a 733 series. She had games of 176, 187, 186 and 184 for an average of 183.

The Big Walnut Athletic Boosters need your help — Thursday night by your attendance at their monthly meeting and Saturday morning to help seed, fertilize and straw the new football field.

I want to get out there to take a picture, so be there and I'll shoot you!

Highland Holds Statistics Edge

Coach Tom Crement's boys held the edge in statistics, leading 7-5 in first downs, and 133-93 in net yards. The Scotties ran up 189 yards rushing, but lost 56, most of it attempting to pass, gaining only 20 yards on two completions out of five attempts.

Olentangy gained 57 yards through the air on 3 of 12 and had 1 pass intercepted. The Scotties also led in total plays 55-41 and didn't have a fumble, while the Braves lost their only fumble.

Tailback Dick Andrews was the Braves leading rusher, gaining 46 yds. on six attempts for a 7.7 average. He was followed by Aquila who carried 14 attempts for 45 yds. and a 25 av. and Kennedy who gained 10 yds. in two tries for a 9.5 av. Paul Green led tacklers with 9, followed by Brown and Dennis Schoenleub with 8 and Bob Cline with 6.

Friday night, the Braves of Neil Davis will attempt to up their record to 2-0-1 when they entertain Mt. Gilead in their first game at home.

Olentangy 8 14 0 0 — 22
Highland 0 0 6 8 — 14

Olentangy Scoring: TD's — Green, 29 yd. run on Brown blocked punt; Kennedy, 20-yd. pass from Halley; Aquila, 1-yd. run. Safety — Bair. PAT — Aquila, run.

Highland Scoring: TD's — Davidson, 12-yd. run; Plogher, 6-yd. run. PAT — Davidson, run.

Meet Catholic Saturday Night in Top Game

BV Wins Second Game; Takes Logan Hills 6-0

Buckeye Valley won their second game of the young season Friday night as they squeezed by Logan Hills 6-0 in a game played on the Muskingum County field. The Barons opened their season by defeating Dublin 22-8, a team that knocked off Mt. Gilead Friday night 22-16.

Junior Quarterback Larry Orathood scored the winning touchdown as he scored from eight yards out as the climax to a drive that started on the Logan Elm 45-yd. line. Orathood's score came early in the fourth period on a sweep play. Ed Cackler's plunge for the extra points failed.

The Barons ran up 325 total yards against Logan Elm who finished with 220. Coach Gary Crum told that the Barons dominated play in the first half and Logan had charge in the second, other than Buckeye's lone touchdown drive.

Saturday night the Barons kick off their Mid-Ohio as they entertain defending champion Marion Catholic, who are seeking their third straight title, in the league's top game of the week. Coach Crum stated, "I think if we play the football we're capable of we'll beat them. We'll have to play a ball control game against them according to our scouting reports." He added, "It will probably boil down to the team making the fewest mistakes winning."

Buckeye Valley has not won the football title since their consolidation in 1963. Coach Dick Meyer brought the basketball crown to the Barons this year for the first time and his baseball team has won the crown for three straight years.

Buckeye Valley Scoring: TD — Orathood, 8 yd. run.

Scotties Choose Their Queen.....

HIGHLAND HOMECOMING FRIDAY — Diana Bushong, senior, in the center of picture above, has been chosen by the Scotties to reign over the Highland Homecoming Friday night when they entertain the Mt. Gilead Indians. The crowning ceremony will be held at 7:30 before the game starts at 8:00. Diana will also reign at the senior-sponsored dance following the game. Attendees in her court will be, left to right, Terri House, freshman and Belinda White, sophomore; right of the queen is junior attendant Henrietta Noble and senior attendant, Sue McCormick.

Braves to Join Eagles in Class 'A'

Olentangy High School will join Big Walnut in the Class A ranks this year since they have switched from a four-year to a three-year plan high school. Three year high schools are allowed a top enrollment of 200 boys to participate in Class A athletics and the present enrollment at Liberty Union is 187.

Big Walnut will remain in Class A, for the third straight year, with an enrollment of 190 in the top three grades.

Principal David Morgan of Olentangy said, "Our freshman class contains 150 boys and girls and the senior class has only 116. If the ninth graders hold together, we'll probably be Class AA again next year."

SUNBURY — 965-5951

David King participates in his daily class work in Olentangy High School, where he is a junior though he is at least five miles from the classroom.

This has been made possible through the suggestion of Maurice Lenz, county school superintendent, and the cooperation of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co.

David took ill just a few days after school ended in May. The diagnosis was rheumatic fever. Only a few days before school was to reopen in the fall, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King, David's parents, learned that he would not be able to attend school this year.

Mikes at Home, School

The telephone company installed a microphone and receiver set in David's room south of Stratford and made a similar installation in the school. David is taking English, Spanish II, Government and American History over the set. His schedule was set up by the principal, David Morgan, so that he would have a class, then a rest period, etc. throughout the day. When the News reporter visited his home Monday morning he had just finished a class.

By the time the reporter reached the school it was almost time for David's history class to meet. His teacher, Mrs. Mettee, had plugged in the speaker system on her desk in the front of the room. David at home was able to hear everything which was said in the classroom and was able to speak to his teacher and the entire class whenever he was called upon or whenever he chose to enter the discussion. When Mrs. Mettee asked him a question concerning the American colonies, his voice came through clear and loud, "I don't know!"

Student Grades His Papers

The other teachers who instruct David over the system are Miss Mercer in English, Mrs. Moulaison in Spanish and Mr. Davis in Government. "We aren't sure at this stage just what procedure we will use for testing," Mr. Morgan told. "He has already had some little quizzes," his mother told. "He grades his own paper and then tells the teacher what he has missed."

When asked what the advantages of this system over the tutoring system are, Mr. Morgan explained that they felt it would be cheaper in the end, however, that is still to be determined. "However, the pupil participation in class discussion creates more interest in the pupil and he is assured of receiving exactly the same instruction as his fellow classmates."

Leathernecks Magazine Features Sunbury Marine Injured in Vietnam

It isn't often that someone from Sunbury or our small vicinity makes a story in a national magazine, but one of our servicemen recently made quite a spread in the Leathernecks Magazine, Marine Corps magazine.

Pfc. Donald Meeker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Meeker of Sunbury, is a member of what the Marines call the Go-Go Golf Co. It is composed of very young men with the leader 25 year old Lt. Russell Sutton. As the Leathernecks magazine states Lt. Sutton at 25 is the "father, mother and chaplain to 45 Marines nearly his same age — give or take the casualties."

"There is something unorthodox in the 1st Platoon of G-29. The men patrol all day in the mine-infested villages, then dig trenches all evening. They never gripe; nor do they balk at orders. Instead, they sing, whistle and make games of their rigorous chores. They jokingly call themselves "Human Mine Sweepers" and go on about the deadly task." Lt. Sutton was pictured with Donnie in the Apr. 21 issue of the News.

In the September issue of Leathernecks Magazine was a second story written on the Go-Go Golf Co. and their leader, Lt. Sutton. The story entitled "The Hole" gives a graphic story with pictures of the company's actions one day. They were sitting around, jittery and nervous, apparently with nothing happening when the following story opened up. This is quoted from September issue of Leathernecks Magazine.

(Ronnie Lyons of LEATHERNECKS MAGAZINE granted the News permission to use the following pictures and excerpt from their story.)

At first, I thought it was a rabbit. It rustled and sort of slid—just behind Big Mac's machine gun position. "Maybe it's a mongoose," I thought. "Or something exotic." I walked toward the bamboo clump. It moved again, sliding downward.

"A snake... maybe a python... or a cobra."

I crept up to where the sound came from. Then I saw it—a thin line drawn on the ground. It was a hole, with a camouflaged lid. I backed off, drawing my pistol.

"Mac," I called quietly. "Come here."

"What you got?" he asked. "I think somebody's in that hole," I said, trying not to sound nervous.

About that time, it dawned on me that The Enemy had been looking directly at Me. Mac came over. He looked at the hole, unbelieving. Then he jumped back.

"Man!" he said. "That's a hole!" As if he had snapped his fingers, things began to rain again. Nobody was scared. It was like a computerized program.

"Come here," he said quietly to his men. "Get around this thing. Look for other exits. Check the river. Get the lieutenant on the radio."

"Don't blow it if you can help it," directed the platoon leader. "I'll be right over."

We looked for other holes—exits at first, then air vents.

"There must be a couple of VC's in there," somebody said.

"Watch it," another warned. "They may come up fighting."

The lieutenant arrived, along with the Vietnamese interpreter who carried a battery-powered megaphone. Everybody was spread out, each guarding what he thought was an air hole.

Sgt. Kelly Anderson, of Montrose, Calif., wanted this hole for himself. Two days ago, his pal was killed by a booby trap only a few hundred feet away.

He eased up to the hole with a grapnel hook. Then he backed off and yanked. It wouldn't give.

He crawled up to it on his hands and knees.

"Let's blast it open," somebody yelled.

"S-2 wants prisoners," was the lieutenant's answer.

Anderson tried to ease the tiny lid up. It wouldn't give.

Then, with a jerk, it came up. Out came a hand, and a grenade.

Another hand was struggling to pull the string of the "potato masher" grenade.

"Grenade!" somebody yelled. Anderson slammed the lid down, knocking the grenade back into the hole. We fell backwards. There was a muffled blast as the grenade exploded near the top of the hole.

Then there was the rattle of gunfire as the Marines fired into the hole. At first, we thought the guerrillas were coming out shooting.

"Cease fire! Cease fire!"

The lieutenant, pistol, out, calmly advised everyone to check for wounds. His radio-man, Pfc. Settle, had caught a piece of the grenade in his shoulder.

Sgt. Ho, the interpreter, was first to ease up to the hole. It was quiet. Thin, but acrid, smoke filled the bamboo clump.

Then we noticed what was left. Inside, we could see two twisted bodies. There was no way to tell how many had been in there. We figured at least three.

"Are they dead?" somebody asked.

"Quiet," another yelled. "They're moving. Somebody's moving inside."

Sgt. Ho began talking through his megaphone. In his sing-song Vietnamese, he instructed the survivors to come out.

"Come out, hands first," he told them. "You will not be harmed."

There was no sound at first. With flashlights we could see the torn limbs. Then we heard moaning.

"Come out," repeated Ho. "We have a doctor here."

One of the bodies stirred. We could see his face, bloody and bewildered.

"There's a rifle underneath him," somebody yelled.

"All right, take it easy," calmed the lieutenant. "Keep your eyes open. If he tries anything, let him have it. We're going to dig them out."

By now, it was raining. And the darkness was settling fast. Somebody produced a shovel and the digging began. The hole's entrance, originally eight by fourteen inches, was soon big enough for one of the Marines to get through.

"Let me go in after them," volunteered LCpl Jim Keith, of New Orleans.

"We'll dig them out," replied the lieutenant. "Sgt. Ho, you keep talking."

One of the guerrillas sat near the entrance, looking up at us with dumbfounded eyes. His nose and ears were bleeding from the concussion of the grenade.

He was almost within reach.

"Come out," Sgt. Ho pleaded. "You are dying. Your friends are dying. We will help you."

The wounded guerrilla answered weakly.

"It is our fate to die," he said.

"Keep digging," ordered the lieutenant. "Get the lights on."

The rain was falling harder. It was dark. We worried about snipers from across the rice paddies. As the Marines dug, dirt fell into the face of the stunned guerrilla looking up. He rarely blinked his eyes.

A half dozen rifles were pointing at his head, just in case he tried anything.

"Easy, kid," somebody said. "Don't get trigger happy. Stay loose."

It was almost midnight. The rain had stopped. The full moon was trying to break through the cloudy overcast. The Marines were tired. Their patience was equally tired. All the while, Sgt. Ho kept talking, urging the guerrillas to come out.

"Sgt. Ho," said the lieutenant, "tell them we have lost our patience. Tell them to come out."

He repeated the order in Vietnamese. They refused.

"Give 'em a green smoke grenade."

The signal grenade popped, fired and was thrown into the hole. Then the thick smoke poured out. The Marines backed off, sighting in on the hole, ready for a fight.

The smoke thinned out. Still no guerrillas.

There was a cough, a sputter, then a scream.

"Here they come!"

They came out fighting. LCpl Jim Keith grabbed the first one. The guerrilla sank his teeth into Keith's hand. They grappled in the dirt and Keith got a rope around him.

Two more guerrillas came out—also fighting. They were

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fay of Ridgeview and Mrs. Pearl Johnson of Tucson, Ariz. were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Justice. Callers were knocked to the ground and after a struggle, were tied. We had our prisoners.

The hole turned up three dead guerrillas, killed by the grenade. There were some dirty clothes, a carbine, another Chinese grenade.

There was a lesson to be learned from the five-hour encounter. The Marines could have easily blown the tunnel with a charge of explosive. But S-2 needed prisoners.

The guerrillas! Their patience simply gave out. They had been in the hole all day. But finally, they just had to raise the lid for a look. One look is all it took.

"Patience," said the lieutenant. "Everybody's got to have a little."

Shortly after this day's action and these pictures Donnie was injured in the back and has been in the hospital ever since. He is being sent this week to Portsmouth, N. H. where he will guard a prison. Lt. Sutton since that time has lost one eye.
